"Get the Best."

Says old Noah Webster's publishers, but we are not on Dictionaries now, but upon a much more modern invention; we refer to Sewing Machines. Without attempting to be a judge, although our better half is, and she says that the following extract from the Home Journal is just right, although hardly strong enough. Here is what the courtly Willis says in the Journal: "The celebrated Wheeler & Wilson Sewing Machine was awarded the first prize—a large silver medal—at the International Show held at Stettin, Prussia, a few weeks since, 'as the best Sewing Machine for all ordinary purposes.'" These celebrated Machines, for the sale of which E. P. Carpenter, Esq., No. 27 Fifth street, is the sole agent, in addition to the numerous national, State and county premiums received in this country, have taken first premiums at Stettin, Prussia; Paris, London and Konigsburg. There must be some merit in them.

Great Bargains in Hats and Caps.

The most extensive stock of Men's, Boy's and Children's summer styles of Hats and Caps ever offered for sale in this city may now be seen by calling at the extensive and popular Hat and Cap House of Wm. Fleming, No. 139 Wood street. Gent's fine French Felt Hats, of all colors and styles; Men's Straw, Fur and Linen Resorte Hats; Boy's fine Felt Hats; Boys' Straw and Stiff Brim Cassimere Hats; Men's and Boys' fancy Cloth Caps; Ladies' and Misses' Hats, trimmed and untrimmed, all of which will be sold at less prices at Wm. Fleming's First-class Hat and Cap House, No. 139 Wood street, than at any other house in the city.

Drowned, Drowned.

Men and boys visiting the river for the purpose of bathing or learning to swim, should first go to the Pittsburgh Cork and Bung Factory, No. 124 Third street, and procure one of their standard Cork Jackets, as it is impossible to drown while wearing them.

Something Worth Knowing.

To cure Diarrhoea, Dysentery, Cholera Morbus and Summer Complaint, get a bottle of Henderson's Carminative. Sold by all Druggists.

Lubin's Cocoanut Cream

Will restore hair to its original color, and promote a new growth of hair on bald heads, if used according to the directions. For sale at Fulton's Drug Store, Fifth street.

Burnett's Flavoring Extracts

Are superior to all others, and sold for less money than any other kind, at Fleming's Drug Depot, No. 84 Market street.

The Premium Yeast Powder

Is Prof. Morris' Azumea. Ask your Grocer for it.

Legality of Bounty Bonds.

Elsewhere we give the decision of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania, affirming the constitutionality of the State Bounty Law, passed April 25th, 1864. Soon after the passage of the act by the Legislature, the Borough of Blairsville proposed to borrow $5,000 on its bonds wherewith to pay bounties to volunteers, but some of the citizens objected, and applied for an injunction to restrain the authorities from proceeding in the negotiation. The Common Pleas of Indiana county sustained the constitutionality of the proceeding, when the case was appealed to the Supreme Court, and there twice argued. After a careful consideration, the decision of the Court was made on Friday. Justice AGNEW, (Justices READ and STRONG concurring,) decided that the act was constitutional, and that all loans negotiated by virtue of its provisions were valid. Chief Justice WOODWARD and Justice THOMPSON dissented. The matter is one of great interest to nearly every city, borough and school district in the State, and as this decision establishes the legality of the bounty act, it will increase the value of the bonds issued for military purposes.

THE NATION.—The first number of this new weekly family and political journal will be issued on Thursday, July 6th. Mr. RICHARDS, well and favorably known in connection with the publication of the Independent, will be the publisher of the Nation. Its list of contributors will embrace the names of the leading authors and writers of the country, and it is inferred that the tone of the paper will be of an elevated character. The publisher's prospectus in another column will inform the reader of the aim of the new enterprise.

A meeting of the citizens of Richmond was held last Monday, at which a memorial to President Johnson was read, representing that the $20,000 clause in his proclamation of amnesty was daily causing great embarrassment in the transactions of all kinds of business, and praying that it be withdrawn. A letter from H. G. Fant, of the First National Bank of Richmond to the Committee, favors the repeal of the clause referred to. The petitioners state that they took the oath prescribed by President Lincoln, of March 26, 1864, and December 8, 1864, in the full belief that by so doing they secured the pardon extended, and that business had been suddenly paralyzed by the latter decision of the Attorney General. The memorial will probably be unanimously signed and forwarded to the President in a few days.

MORE TRIALS.—A Washington despatch says: "The trial of Gale, the one million dollar would-be assassin man, is set for Thursday, before the court martial of which General Underwood is president, and Colonel Chipman Judge Advocate. It is probable, however, that the accused will be taken to Alabama for trial, on account of the convenience to witnesses, all of whom are residents of that State. This matter will be determined by the Secretary of War to-morrow morning. The case of Paymaster Ladd, of Massachusetts, is set for a hearing before the same court at the same hour. Ladd is charged with embezzlement and entering into partnership with a sutler.

THE CANALS IN PENNSYLVANIA.—The Susquehanna Canal is now fully repaired, and is ready to receive the through trade as soon as the canals above are completed, which will be in a few days; that is, from Wilkesbarre downward. The West Branch Division, from Northumberland to Williamsport, will not be finished, we are informed, before the first of August. Boats with full cargoes are arriving here, and at Baltimore, from Havre de Grace, from points along the Susquehanna Canal. We are glad to be able to announce the re-opening of this important link of our public works.

THE PIRATE STONEWALL.—The last steamer brings an insight into the nature of the work designed for the last Confederate ram Stonewall. She was destined for the Texan Coast, which she was to keep clear of Union vessels, and thus prevent their assistance to our land forces in the overthrow of the rebellion in that State. The rebel officials abroad appear to have calculated on a prolonged campaign in Texas, and were utterly dumbfounded when the intelligence of Kirby Smith's and Magruder's surrender was received.

LAWRENCE COUNTY WHEAT CROP.—The Lawrence Journal of Saturday says: A few weeks ago the wheat crop in this section made a fine appearance for a full crop, but from every section of the county we have intelligence of the depredations of the midge or weevil. We examined some fields a few days since and counted as high as ten and twelve larvies on one grain, and the whole head in the same proportion. In some places a great deal of cheat is making its appearance, supposed to be caused by freezing out.

A BAD REPORT FROM INDIANA.—The Brownston (Ind.) Union, of the 27th, says: "The farmers have been busy during the past week. They tell us, and we have seen some from all over the county, that wheat will not be a half crop. In White River bottom the rust has injured it so badly that there are many fields which will not be cut. We saw at least a hundred acres in a body, not one acre of which will be cut. Corn looks well, and is growing fast. Oats and grass were never better."

MINER'S STRIKE ENDED.—The miner's strike in the Mahoning Valley, after lasting over two months, has finally come to an end, and work has been resumed at many of the banks, at the rates of wages proposed by the proprietors in April last. The miners have also agreed to abandon the Union which the proprietors regard as the cause of all the trouble, and an instrument of mischief to workmen as well as employers. Most of the proprietors are of the opinion that another reduction in wages will have to be made before long.

TRIAL OF MISS MARY HARRIS.

Order Relating to Veterans and Invalids

Circular of Secretary of the Navy.

Special to Pittsburgh Commercial.

WASHINGTON, July 2.—During the week ending yesterday, forty-six

National Banks

Were established, with a capital of $20,014,120. The total number of banks now in operation is 1,378, with a capital of $499,838,881. The following are the Western Banks: Michigan National Bank, at Kalamazoo, capital $100,000; First National Bank of Elgin, Illinois, capital $100,000.

During the week ending July 1st, three million eight hundred and sixty-five thousand dollars in

National Currency

Was issued to the banks, making the amount now in circulation nearly $470,000,000.

A large number of Western soldiers, belonging to General Schofield's command, left here to-day for their homes, on furlough.

The 118th Pennsylvania

Started this afternoon for Harrisburg, where they will be paid off and discharged.

Citizens of the

Cotton, Rice and Sugar Growing States,

Now here, represent that, in their belief, the planting interest in that section is destroyed; the war desolated the plantations, and peace will not restore them. Their natural fertility remains, but the labor which is to do it will no longer be under the control of capital. It is urged by the planters that in no tropical region can any but compulsory labor be productive. We shall see.

WASHINGTON, July 1.

Receipts from Internal Revenue.

Two hundred and six millions, three hundred and eleven thousand, one hundred and eighty dollars and ninety-eight cents is the exact amount received from internal revenue for the last fiscal year, exclusive of the tax on National Bank circulation, which will swell the total to about two hundred and one and a half millions.

Sale of Government Property.

The Government will offer for sale within the next two or three months upwards of one hundred million dollars worth of property rendered useless by the termination of the war. An immense number of horses and mules will be included in the property sold.

The sentence of the court martial in

The Case of Major Wm. C. Carroll.

Of the 19th Illinois Cavalry, which was that he be cashiered, has been disapproved by the War Department, and he is restored to duty.

The Trial of Miss Mary Harris.

For the murder of the Treasury Clerk Burroughs, in January last, will begin in the criminal court on Monday. The following gentlemen are the counsel for Miss Harris, viz: Messrs. Joseph H. Bradley, Sr., Hon. D. W. Voorhees, Judge Hughes, Judge Mason, and W. S. Fendall.

Hon. Joseph J. Lewis.

Commissioner of Internal Revenue, retired to-day from the Bureau which he has so ably managed for the past two years. Mr. Orton, his successor, will assume charge of the office on Monday.

The Secretary of War directs that soldiers of the second battalion of Veteran Reserves.

Shall not be discharged until their services can be dispensed with, without detriment to the sick in hospitals, where all the men are on duty. The invalid companies of the regular army will be discontinued, and all men belonging to them who are not now or who are not likely to become capable of performing field duty in a reasonable time, will be discharged.

Employment of Hands at Navy Yards.

The Secretary of the Navy has issued a circular to the commandants of the navy yards and stations, that in the employment of hands preference shall be given to persons who have served in the army and who have been honorably discharged; and that such persons who relinquished their places to enter the military or naval service will be permitted to resume their positions if they wish.

IMPORTANT MILITARY CHANGES.

WASHINGTON, July 1.—The following order has just been issued:

HEADQ'RS MIL. DIV. OF THE ATLANTIC,
PHILADELPHIA, July 1.

GENERAL ORDERS, NO. 1.

First, in obedience to General Orders No. 118, current series, from the Adjutant General's office, Major General Meade assumes command of the Military Division of the Atlantic.

Second, the following officers are announced as general staff officers of this military division: Brevet Brigadier General George D. Rudgaly, United States Volunteers, and Aid de camp, United States Army; Brevet Colonel S. F. Barlow, Major and Aid de camp of volunteers; Brevet Major General A. S. Webb, United States Volunteers; Acting Inspector General, Brevet Major C. D. Emery; Captain Worth, U. S. Infantry, Acting Assistant Inspector General; Lieut. Col. R. N. Batcheldor, Captain and Assistant Q. M., U. S. A.; Brevet Lieut. Col. J. C. Biddle, Major and A. D. C.; Brevet Lieut. Col. F. M. Barker, Capt. 11th Infantry, A. D. C.; Brevet Lieut. Col. Geo. Meade, Capt. and A. D. C. Department commanders will forward to these headquarters with the least possible delay, complete returns of their several commands, stating location of forts, number and designation of garrison of each, with such other details, by letter, as may be important for the information of the Major General commanding. By command of Maj. Gen. MEADE.

GEO. D. RUGGLES, A. A. G.

Affairs in Louisiana.

NEW YORK, July 1.—The Herald's correspondent from Shreveport, La., says that Gen. Herron has sent out detachments of troops to garrison various towns in that region. The country is rapidly becoming quiet and orderly. Orders have been issued forbidding foraging and the lawless appropriation of private property by the soldiers, and also requiring the negroes to remain on the plantations and continue their work.

It is said that at the time of Kirby Smith's surrender there were about 100,000 bales of cotton along Red River.

Gen. Herron has sent two of his offices into the Indian country for the purpose of negotiating treaties with the Indians.

Gov. Allen is on his way to Mexico, escorted by a regiment of Texas troops.

Applications for Pardon—Abandoned Lands.

NEW YORK, July 1.—The Tribune's Washington special says: The applications of numbers of parties, who have taken the prescribed oath and received pardon, are daily coming into Gen. Howard's Bureau, for restoration of their lands. Their claims has not yet been decided on by Gen. Howard. In many cases these abandoned lands have been greatly improved by agents of the Bureau, and if the question of ownership is decided in favor of rebel applicants, one arises whether they should re-possess these lands without first indemnifying the United States for improvements made.

Tornado in Wisconsin—Destruction of Life and Property.

LA CROSSE, Wis., June 1.—A terrible tornado passed over the village and vicinity of Viroqua, Vernon county, Wisconsin, prostrating fifty dwellings, killing seventeen persons and wounding one hundred. There is great suffering, and a call has been made for relief. Mayor Lloyd and Postmaster Lottridge have been appointed a committee at La Crosse to receive donations.

Return of Gen. Sickles—Result of His Mission.

NEW YORK, July 1.—The Herald, in speaking of the return of Gen. Sickles, says that it has no doubt England and France will be filled with indignation when they come to learn what a brilliant triumph our State Department has achieved over them in the recent mission of Gen Sickles to Bogota.

Railroad Accident—Several Persons Killed.

IRVINGTON, July 1.—The Albany train, No. 28, due at New York about 4:30 this P. M., ran off the track at this place at 3 o'clock. Several persons are reported killed, and others severely wounded. Among the latter is Wm. Paulding, of Peekskill, who will lose both legs. The disaster was occasioned by gross carelessness on the part of the switch-tender.

The New Governor of South Carolina.

WASHINGTON, July 1.—The President has appointed Benjamin F. Perry Governor of South Carolina. The President's proclamation is in the same form as the proclamations appointing the Governors for other late rebellious States. Governors are now appointed for all the States except Florida.

The Conspiracy Trial.

Prisoners found Guilty by the Court

Executive Deliberating on the Verdict.

Probable Action of the President.

NEW YORK, July 1.—A special to the New York Commercial, dated Washington July 1st, says the Executive is deliberating on the verdict of the Military Commission, and will examine the voluminous testimony closely before rendering a decision. It is understood that the President is by no means pleased with the responsibility imposed upon him of endorsing the proceedings, and it is not improbable that he may quash the affair and order a new trial by the civil courts. All the prisoners were found guilty by the court.

THE FRENCH IN MEXICO.

Highly Important News from Texas.

NEW YORK, July 2.—The Herald's Brownsville (Texas) correspondence has letters from the rebel General Slaughter and others, showing the harmonious feeling between the rebel forces in Texas and the Imperialists in Mexico. Gen. Slaughter says the Imperialists at Bagdad have agreed to permit all arms, &c., to pass over the river from Mexico to Texas to the full extent desired by the Confederacy. In addition to this, it is officially asserted that an Imperial officer asserted that he had received private instructions to that end. From this statement, Gen. Slaughter thinks the cause of Maximilian in Mexico is identical with the interests of the Confederacy.

General Slaughter further states that he has received a message from the Imperialists that a bearer of dispatches from Juarez's party to the Federal Government has passed into Texas, and he sent out scouts to intercept him, and in another letter he says he had made arrangements with General Mejia for sending Confederate cotton into Mexico and selling it.

The Herald's correspondent says it is proposed to built a railroad, at the expense of the Government, between Brazos and Brownsville.

FROM SOUTH CAROLINA.

The Resumption of Trade

NEW YORK, July 2.—The Times' Charleston special says every steamer from New York brings parties who are desirous of engaging in trade. Cotton and rice speculators have agents all over the State. Many of them are coining money. Holders of cotton have been deprived of the luxuries of life so long that they willingly dispose of their property at a heavy discount from market rates. Within the past three weeks cotton has been sold in the interior for twelve cents per pound. The only difficulty purchasers experience is getting the cotton to a seaboard where it can be shipped to a Northern market.

The Charleston Courier says that an enterprising citizen of that city proposes establishing a land company, with about a half million acres of land for the purpose of inducing white emigration. The project of taking land to form a basis of capital for establishing a banking and emigrating company meets with favor generally. One man, who offers a large tract of land, offers to let any white person have use of it for ten years.

GEN. LEE RESPONSIBLE FOR BURNING COTTON AND TOBACCO.

NEW YORK, June 2.—The Herald publishes a rebel War Department dispatch confirming previous statements that Gen. Lee is responsible for the burning of cotton and tobacco in Richmond, and setting fire to the city at his evacuation. It also shows that the evacuation of it was contemplated six weeks before it took place. The dispatch, which is dated February, is from Gen. Breckinridge, then rebel Secretery of War, to Gen. Ewell, advising him to see Lee for the purpose of receiving definite instructions regarding the latter's order for burning cetton, &c.

Affairs in North Carolina.

NEW YORK, July 2.—The Times' Raleigh, N. C., special, says that there is a general desire manifested by newspapers, planters and every one except a few insane ultraists, that Northerners should go down and settle permanently in their midst. They are anxious to get emigration from the North, and have organized themselves for the purpose of generally informing Northern people of the inducements of climate, &c. Before long an authorized agent will go to New York for that purpose.

Telegraph Communication with West Point.

WEST POINT, N. Y., June 1.—The Western Union Telegraph Company have opened an office in Cozzen's Hotel, West Point, for the accommodation of the guests and the public generally. West Point is now in direct telegraphic communication with the city of New York, and all other points in the United States and the Canadas.

Latest from Richmond.

NEW YORK, July 1.—The Herald's Richmond correspondent says: J. N. Croft has been appointed Chief of Police of Richmond.

It is now known that it was contemplated by the rebels, last summer, to blow up the Arsenal opposite Troy, New York. The plot was a part of the one which succeeded in the well remembered explosion of the powder boat at City Point.

Address of the Italian Emigration Society.

WASHINGTON, July 1.—The State Department has received the addresses of the Italian Emigration Society of Concona, the Democratic society of Sierra, and the Italian Union Committee of Sierra, Italy, expressive of their friendship and sympathy for the United States in their loss by the assassination of President Lincoln.

Headquarters, Potomac Army Broken Up.

NEW YORK, July 1.—The Tribune's Washington special says: The headquarters of the Army of the Potomac were broken up to-day. Gen. Meade's headquarters will hereafter be in Philadelphia, but the precise limits of his command has not yet been determined on.

German International Shooting Match.

NEW YORK, July 1.—This morning the New York German Schultzen Corps, consisting of sixty men, sailed for Bremen, to take part in the International Shooting match at that place. The corps consists of the best marksmen in the city, nearly all wealthy Germans.

Probable Resignation of Secretary Stanton.

NEW YORK, July 2.—A Washington dispatch says Secretary Stanton will leave the Cabinet on the 15th of July. Preston King will be his successor.

Army and Navy Gazette.

NEW YORK, July 1.—The publication of the Army and Navy Gazette ceases with this week's issue, the dissolution of the military forces rendering its publication no longer necessary.

President Johnson's Health

WASHINGTON, July 1.—President Johnson's health is almost entirely restored, but he will not again receive visitors until the coming Wednesday.

Lieutenant General Grant.

ALBANY, July 1.—Gov. Fenton has received a telegram from Gen. Grant, saying he would positively be in Albany on the Fourth.

Patents Issued.

WASHINGTON, July 1.—One hundred and seventy-two patents were issued from the Patent Office during last week.

GENERAL GRANT'S RIGHT HAND.—We copy the following singular story from Wilkes's Spirit of the Times: We see it stated in the papers that Gen. Grant's right hand was so badly swollen by the time he reached Buffalo that he had to do his shaking with the left. If this report is true, we know how his right hand became disabled, and an explanation of the cause will reveal another of his traits of character, which will not fail to greatly impress the public. During the General's overwhelming impromptu reception at the Astor House, in this city, a tall, athletic man, who came in turn, after gripping his hand firmly, commenced wrenching it till the elbow turned painfully in the socket. Perceiving the fellow's object, the General, who has himself a powerful gripe, suddenly twisted the ruffianly hand back, and looking for an instant steadily into its owner's eye, contented himself with throwing it off, and with merely saying, in an undertone, which was not heard even by a member of his staff, 'You infernal rascal, I ought to knock you down!' He then released him, and the villian, glad to be let off in this way, hurriedly slid through the crowd. The forbearance of Gen. Grant in enduring this outrage, his rare mention of which would have subjected the aggressor to have been torn to pieces, is indicative of great magnanimity and force of character."

BEECHER ON STANTON.—At the recent Faneui Hall meeting in Boston, Henry Ward Beecher concluded his speech with the following eulogy on Secretary Stanton: "I wish also to say one other word. If there is one man that, first and last, throughtout the struggle, has stood upon simple principles, has labored in behalf of liberty and labored for his behalf, it is that strongest and most lion-like man of our times, Edwin M. Stanton. [Applaus.] He has been the power, the central force, and from the very first his foresight and hindsight have been principle, principle, principle. I happen to know that we are indebted to Edwin M. Stanton more than to any thousand men in this Union for the organization of colored men into regiments of soldiers; giving all his thought, skill and influence through every proper channel to secure for the colored men of the South those rights which God gave him. We ought to be true to ourselves, speaking everywhere as you are speaking here, and we shall gain another victory in the South more glorious than that victory which has been achieved by our armies.

IMPORTANT BOUNTY DECISION.

Constitutionality of the Pennsylvania Bounty Law Affirmed by the Supreme Court.

The Supreme Court of this State, all the justices being present, have just rendered a decision on the Volunteer Bounty Fund Case, in which the constitutionality of the act is affirmed. The case is entitled Speer et al vs. The School Directors &c., of Indiana county. This case involved the constitutionality of the act of Assembly of April 26, 1864, under the provisions of which loans for large sums of money had been authorized and negotiated by various cities, counties, borough and towns, within the Commonwealth, for the purpose of facilitating the enlistment of Volunteers by the payment of bounties; thus enabling these communities to fill their quotas without the necessity of a draft. The question of the constitutionality of this act under which loans to the amount of many millions of dollars had been made, was first raised in this case and was presented to the Court of Indiana county, by bill in equity, in which the plaintiffs, who were tax-payers, prayed for an injunction to restrain the defendants from borrowing five thousand dollars in the name and on behalf of the borough of Blairsville, to procure volunteer enlistments by paying to each volunteer a bounty of $300 to fill the quota assigned to the said borough, by the last requisition of the President, &c., and also to restrain them from making payments therefor by the issue of the bonds of the said borough, plaintiffs suggesting that the debt of the borough will be greatly increased by the loan and their taxes greatly augmented. On behalf of the plaintiff, the power of the legislature to authorize the municipality of Blairsville to borrow money and levy taxes for its payment, for the purpose of paying bounties to persons enlisting in the military service of that borough was denied. The position, was in fact, taken that the legislature not having the power, the act was unconstitutional and void. On hearing, the court below, refused the injunction, and dismissed the bill, and the case was brought to the Supreme Court. It was argued before three of the judges during the session of last winter, and was held for some time under advisement; but they having failed to agree, the case was ordered down for reargument at the next term of court, to be held at Harrisburg. The city of Philadelphia being largely interested in the result of the case, as her faith was pledged for several millions of dollars, borrowed for the payment of bounties to volunteers, F. C. Brewster, Esq., took part in the reargument of the case, at Harrisburg, in behalf of the city, and in favor of the constitutionality of the act; and after an elaborate and comprehensive argument by himself and other able counsel, both for and against the constitutionality of the law, the case was submitted to the court.

The opinion of the majority of the court was yesterday delivered by Mr. Justice Agnew, affirming the constitutionality of the law, thus relieving the disquietude of the holders of this class of our city securities. The opinion is at much length, and is able, learned, and exhaustive of the questions at issue.

Mr. Justice Thompson delivered a dissenting opinion, in which Chief Justice Woodward concurred.

Political.

ARMSTRONG COUNTY.—The Union County Convention of Armstrong has nominated the following soldiers ticket: State Senate, Colonel Samuel M. Jackson; Sheriff, Capt. Robert S. Kisadden; Assembly, Lieut. Frank Mechling; Treasurer, J. Norman McLeod; Auditor, W. H. Henry.

LAWRENCE COUNTY.—The Union Convention have nominated the following ticket: State Senate—Rev. R. A. Browne, late Chaplain of the "Roundhead" regiment; Assembly—Samuel McKinley; District Attorney—J. Smith Dushane, a wounded soldier; Auditor—Z. N. Allen; Commissioner—Wm. Y. Greer; Treasurer—Wm. H. Shaw; Coroner—Dr. A. M. Cowden; Surveyor—Henry Pearson. The Convention, among other patriotic resolutions, adopted the following: "That President Johnson, by his unswerving devotion to the Union, through years of severest trial, has now our highest confidence; that we cheerfully endorse the policy of his Administration, looking to the restoration of peace and civil order in the so-called seceded States, and that as Union men of Lawrence County, we will give him our hearty and undivided support. The following Executive Committee was appointed: New Castle, D. Emery; Neshannock, H. C. Falls; Wilmington, Thomas Pomeroy; Pulaski, Henry Porter; Mahoning, A. Biddle; Union, D. Sankey; Pollock, W. B. Lutton; Shenango, Thomas Cairns; Taylor, S. G. Blanchard; Slipperyrock, Thomas J. Alford; Wayne, Joseph Cunningham; Perry, P. S. Morton; Scott, Z. N. Allen; Flaingrove, J. M. Lawrence; Washington, Joseph Edie; Hickory, J. T. Crowl; North Beaver, James Jackson; Big Beaver, John Davidson; Little Beaver, Harvey M'Gown.

Mahlon H. Dickinson has been elected Senatorial Delegate to the Union State Convention from the Third Senatorial District.

State Items.

Sharon, Mercer county, is soon to have a noble school building, fifty feet front by seventy feet deep. It will accommodate five hundred pupils.

Rev. B. K. Ormond, and J. Winter, editor of the Sharon Herald, addressed the returned soldiers of Sharon last week.

The draft wheel of the Erie District has been sold for five dollars.

The Erie Academy is to be changed into a High School, much against the will of the students.

The Clearfield County Bank having surrendered its charter, the directors have established a private banking house in its stead.

J. B. McEnally has been chosen Representative Delegate to the Union State Convention from Clearfield County.

During a storm last week the school house in Kerrtown, near Meadville, was struck by lightning, tearing the stove and pipe to pieces, and very seriously injuring many of the scholars, shocking and burning a great number badly.

Augustus Adams, while driving up Mahoning hill, Armstrong county, on Sunday last, was precipitated over the hill and almost instantly killed.

Late News Items.

In South America, small farmers are those whose lands do not extend over more than three square miles. Good lands can be bought for sixty cents an acre, and in some parts cattle are sold for less than two silver dollars a head.

Miss Sullivan, of Newport, Rhode Island, was struck by lightning, on Monday evening, and instantly killed. She was in the yard, and had an iron poker in her hand, adjusting a spout to a water cask.

A fearful accident occurred near Dyersville, Iowa, by which a party returning from a wedding got into a swollen stream that had overflowed its banks, and four men and one woman and child were drowned.

An old farmer from Carroll county, Illinois, named Jacob Wolf, was robbed on Thursday evening last, while en route from the station to his home, of $22,000. He had just retured from Delphi, where he had sold his farm for the sum above stated. The old gentleman yielded to superior numbers and disgorged the whole amount without any further argument. Mr. Wolf has offered a reward of $3,000 for the arrest of the robbers. As yet no traces have been discovered.

The Council Bluffs Bugle pronounces most of the articles relative to Indian outrages on the plains as false. It says these stories are gotten up by interested parties, who desire to keep back supply trains and raise the price of provisions in the mountains. Such speculators have been the cause of all our Indian difficulties, and now they are at the bottom of all false reports relative to Indian massacres. The truth is, there has been no trouble on the plains this spring, and there is an ample force to keep the redskins clear from the route.

The friends of Major General Howard started a movement in Portland, Maine, to raise a sum of money, to be invested in United States securities, for his benefit. The General declined the offer gratefully, and expressed the wish that the sum of money so invested might be put in trust toward an asylum or home for wounded soldiers.

It is stated in the Richmond Whig that Major Thomas P. Turner, late commandant of the Libby Prison; Major George W. Alexander, at one time commandant of Castle Thunder, and Frederick Willey, adjutant of the latter post, had all safely arrived in London, England, at last accounts.

It is reported that the committee of Democrats at Lyons, France, have opened lists of subscriptions, and deposited them in the manufacturing parts of the city, the receipts to be used for the manufacture of a flag of honor, to be presented to the United States, in memory of our lamented President. The subscriptions are fixed at ten centimes (two cents), and are represented to be coming in freely.

The number of those who have taken the oath of allegiance at the Provost Marshal's office in Nashville, since January 1st, is 9,000.

A careful and complete survey of the entire field leaves no doubt of a large yield of nearly everything planted this year in Illinois.

The French are getting ahead of England as machinists, and a French company recently obtained a contract for building fifteen locomotives for one of the great English railways.

The following Post Office changes were made on Wednesday, by the Postmaster General: George Bossert, postmaster at Penn's Station, Westmoreland county, Pennsylvania, vice Gustavus Story, resigned. Mrs. Ann Phelps, postmaster at Kahle's Station, Clarion county, Pennsylvania, vice John D. Kahle, resigned. Levi Richardson, postmaster at Prompton, Wayne county, Pennsylvania, vice Lucius Walters, deceased.

FROM BEAVER.

Seminary Re-Union—Commencement Exercises.

Special Correspondence of Pittsburgh Commercial.

BEAVER, June 29, 1865.

At 3 P. M. to-day, the invited guests assembled in the music hall to participate in the exercises of the "Re-union." Whilst Prof. Bassler was discoursing music upon the piano, the opportunity was seized by the enterprising President to send around refreshments, which consisted of a temperance beverage and a baked preparation of flour and "other fixings," of a golden color, of most excellent taste, put up in the form of one of the mechanical powers, and which was intended to open the mouth—its utility unlike other wedges, not being dependent upon friction. Of its effective force, very many illustrations were pleasantly given in the progress of the afternoon. On motion of Mr. Moore, Rev. D. P. Lowrie was called to preside. The Reverend gentleman inducted himself into the presidential chair by a brief speech in his usual felicitous manner. Mr. Weyand was chosen Secretary. Sentiments and toasts laid upon the Secretary's table were read and were successively responded to by Rev. W. G. Taylor, Rev. J. F. Dravo, Prof. Gantz, Rev. D. P. Lowrie, Rev. Mr. Dilworth, Dr. W. Cox, Rev. J. K. Miller, Rev. J. Horner, Dr. J. Henderson, Rev. J. M. Carr, Rev. D. Pierce, Rev. Smith and President Taylor. At the close of his response to the sentiment, President Taylor stated that two of the Faculty of the session now closing were about to sever their connection with the Seminary—and that on behalf of the pupils taught by them, as a testimonial of their affectionate respect and regards, it was his pleasant privilege to present to each one of them, a valuable writing desk, furnished with all the materials for epistolary correspondence. The thanks of the retiring teachers, Misses Babcock and McGinnis, were on their behalf, returned in a neat and effective address by Reverend D. P. Lowrie.

The time was passed so pleasantly, and with so much interest, that notwithstanding the approach of evening, and the expected entertainment then to be had, there seemed to be a reluctance to adjourn, and only for the self-denying resolution of J. F. Dravo, there is no telling how long the meeting would have lasted. On his motion the assemblage adjourned to meet one year hence. It may suffice to say that the toasts offered were appropriate and judicious; some humorous, others sentimental, and the responses genial, in good spirit, and some of them unusually full of "good things"—making this to be a "feast of reason and a flow of soul" to the full, as pleasant and interesting as any previous affair of the kind.

In the evening, the intelligence, "beauty and chivalry" of this region gathered until the Presbyterian Church was filled to overflowing, to witness the commencement exercises and the closing scenes of this collegiate year. The opening voluntary was performed on the magnificent organ before referred to, in his usual effective and brilliant style, by your townsman, C. C. Mellor, Esq., who aided Prof. Bassler in the musical part of the programme.

The voluntary was followed with prayer, by Rev. W. F. Lauck. During the evening, between the essays, music, both vocal and instrumental, on the piano and guitar, was introduced—some of the pieces being performed in a very superior manner. The vocal music, by Prof. Bassler, assisted by the pupils of the Musical Institute, was particularly entertaining and good.

Miss Retta D. Smith read an essay on "True and false lights on the ocean of life;" Miss Sallie Lindsay on "The unreturning brave;" Miss Jennie Scott on "The lives of those fallen in battle not lost;" Miss H. Bell Scott on "Noiseless falls the foot of time, which treads on flowers;" Miss Anna M. Gregg on "Trifles and their results." Miss Rebecca Lauck, of Braddock's Field, read the valedictory, the theme being "Social Centres." During the most of the exercises, it unfortunately happened that a heavy rain-storm, accompanied with lightning and thunder, prevailed. The noise thus produced without rendered it impossible for the audience to hear the essays which were read during its continuance. To those who did hear, the young ladies acquitted themselves with satisfaction and were highly commendable. The essay of Miss Lauck, which was the Valedictory, was read after the storm had subsided, and was very distinctly read and just as distinctly heard. It was decidedly a very superior performance, indicating more than ordinary ability and intellectual cultivation. Everything was in good taste, appropriate to the intended purpose and the occasion, and the "Farewells" just such as they ought to be. It may be said to the credit of all the essayists that none of them were prolix and tedious, but all comprehensive and yet all compressed within a reasonable time. After a brief but pertinent address the degrees were conferred upon the graduating class, the essayists named, and the diplomas delivered by the President.

The audience and Professor Bassler were then surprised by a performance not in the programme, which was the presentation by Rev. D. P. Lowrie, on behalf of the pupils of the Musical Institute, of a valuable double-cased gold lever watch to Professor Bassler. Mr. Lowrie seems to have an inexhaustible store of speeches laid up for such impromptu occasions, and, as usual, performed his part admirably, as did also the Professor, in his way, whose speech, so unique in its naivete, we give entire: "You will hardly expect a speech from me on this occasion. I thank you for this valuable present. I shall treasure and prize it very highly; and whenever I look at it, I shall think of IT." The speech, as will be seen, had "music" in it, and was received with rapturous applause.

After music and a farewell chorus sung by the class, the audience was dismissed with benediction by Rev. Shields. We may in passing commend the good order and decorum of the audience throughout the evening performances; a result not at all to be wondered at in this staid community, where there is not a licensed liquor establishment allowed—and when there is taken into consideration, the good sense and tact of President Taylor.

On this (Friday) evening the Beaver County Academy has its closing exercises, under the management of Professors Agnew and Gantz, its present efficient and successful associate Principals. Regretting that we cannot remain for these exercises, we shall leave now with the conviction that nowhere can there be found a more eligible and delightful place for the purposes of education than Beaver affords, and I may commend those institutions now in existence there as worthy of patronage and of their present prosperity and success. Conflict Between the Military and Civil Authorities in Philadelphia.

Mr. Wm. B. N. Cozens was arrested in Philadelphia, Thursday afternoon, by the military authorities. He had lately been on trial before a court martial in that city, the verdict of which had not been announced. His counsel, Messrs. Dougherty and Brewster, concluding that the arrest did not grow out of the findings of the court, procured a writ of habeas corpus from Justice Thompson, of the Supreme Court.

Immediately after the writ was granted, the Sheriff's officers went to the barracks at Fifth and Buttonwood streets, and exhibited their authority. Colonel Frink, in reply to the question whether he intended to obey the writ and produce the body of Mr. Cozens, said "No, not unless he received orders." A return to that effect was made to the writ by the Sheriff, and upon this an attachment was issued for the arrest of the parties named in the writ of habeas corpus, made returnable on Friday morning at ten o'clock.

When one of the officers told Colonel Frink their errand, and that they were obliged to put him in Moyamansing prison till morning, he told them he would not go with them, that he was under Gen. Cadwallader's orders. Upon the officers intimating that he would be obliged to take him, Colonel F. called out a guard of thirty-five men, and the Sheriff's officers withdrew. Justice Thompson, on the presentation of these facts, said "the military officers have made an exceedingly grave mistake. The very act of Congress under which they claim to be acting requires them to make a return to the Court, although they may not produce the body of the petitioner. They have, however, chosen to disregard this Court, when they were merely asked to show cause why they held this man. If these remarks come to their knowledge it is to be hoped they will change their determination. The punishment they incur is not only from this Court, but they become responsible to the party injured by their conduct.

Mr. Gilpin suggested that there might be some explanation. These men, being ignorant of the law may have acted under a misapprehension, and not wilfully.

Further hearing was adjourned till Saturday morning, when Mr. Cozens, accompanied by two staff officers from General Cadwalader's headquarters, was present. Colonel Frink also appeared with his counsel, Judge Knox. Mr. Gilpin again appeared for the Sheriff.

Judge Knox stated that he appeared as counsel for the respondents at the instance of the United States. Judge Thompson said: "These men are in the contempt of this Court, and I cannot hear any remarks until they purge themselves of that contempt." Judge Knox said the respondents submitted themselves fully to the jurisdiction of this Court. After some discussion Justice Thompson permitted the return to be made as to Col. Frink, who, after recapitulating as above, stated that he had received written instructions from Gen. Cadwalader to make return, according to Orders No. 315; I made the return as soon as I could find Judge Knox; this morning I produced the body of the relator; I received orders from the Secretary of War to produce the body.

The case was taken up upon the return of the writ. Judge Knox read it, setting forth that the relator was held under the authority of the President of the United States. The amended return sets forth that the body is produced.

Judge Knox argued that under this return, the writ must be discharged. The act of March 3, 1863, authorizes the suspension of the writ of habeas corpus, and directs this return to be made to the writ. Independent of this, this party was arrested by order of the United States. When this return is made to a writ issued by a State Judge, the writ must be discharged.

At the close of Judge Knox's argument, Mr. Brewster suggested that they should have time to prepare exceptions to the return and submit an argument. Wednesday next was fixed for the further hearing.

The citizens of Titusville are agitating the question of seceding from Crawford county, and erecting a new county, to be taken from Crawford, Warren and Venango counties—Titusville to be the county seat.

THE GOVERNORSHIP OF ALABAMA

Protest Against Judge Parsons.

LAW RELATING TO STATE BANKS.

Commanders of Provisional Corps.

Applications for Pardon.

SALE OF FORD'S THEATRE.

The Wool Crop of the Country

Re-Interment of Soldiers on Wilderness Battlefield.

Special to the Pittsburgh Commercial.

WASHINGTON, July 2.

Another emphatic protest against the Appointment of Judge Parsons,

As Provisional Governor of Alabama, was presented to the President yesterday. It is numerously signed by Northern Alabama loyalists, who denounce Parsons as a secessionist per se, and a man in whom they have no confidence.

The period fixed by law during which

to the national system had preference over new organizations, terminated on the 30th ultimo, and it is supposed that, as a sufficient number of State institutions have filed application for conversion to absorb the whole three hundred millions of dollars of circulating notes provided for in the national currency act, it is probable therefore that no more new banks will be authorized.

Officers or Enlisted Men

Who may hereafter be commissioned under first appointments, by the Governors of States, to regiments or companies of volunteers serving in Texas, will be furnished with free transportation on Government transports to the respective stations of their regiment or companies.

The Quartermaster General admonishes railroad companies that accounts for transportation services, which have not been required of them by proper authority, will not be paid.

The following are the Brigade

Commanders of the Provisional Corps,

Commanded by Gen. Wright, which is all that is left of the old Army of the Potomac: First Brigade, First Division, Brig. Gen. L. Seymour; Second Brigade, First Division, Brevet Major Gen. Wheaton; Third Brigade, First Division, Brig. Gen. J. E. Hamblin; First Brigade, Second Division, Brig. Gen. R. R. De Trobriand; Second Brigade, Second Division, Brig. Gen. B. R. Pierce; Third Brigade, Second Division, Brevet Maj. Gen. G. N. May; First Brigade, Third Division, Brig. Gen. J. L. Chamberlain; Second Brigade, Third Division, Brig. Gen. Henry Baxter; Third Brigade, Third Division, Brig. Gen. Joseph Hayes.

Neither President Johnson nor General Grant will be able to attend the Dedication Services at Gettysburg.

On the 4th inst., the former from illness, and the latter from want of time.

General Pope,

Accompanied by his personal staff, arrived here to-day. A new command is being prepared for him.

Over three hundred applications for clerkships from disabled officers and soldiers were received at the Treasury last week. There are no vacancies now in that Department.

Thirteen Applications for Pardon

Were filed in the Attorney General's office yesterday, by wealthy citizens of the South. Owing to the President's illness, a large number of applications have accumulated and are awaiting his action.

The statement that the Sale of Ford's Theatre

To the Young Men's Christian Association had been closed is incorrect. The association has not yet paid the first installment of the purchase money, $10,000, and is now waiting for the agents sent North and West to collect contributions. It is stated that Mr. Ford has since been offered $150,000 for it by other parties.

The Freedmen's Brotherhood Association

Of Freedmen's Village, Arlington Heights, will hold a grand celebration at Mason Island, near Georgetown, on the 4th. Several distinguished orators will address the meeting.

The Treasury yesterday paid out nearly ten millions in gold, the interest on United States bonds then falling due.

All the general and staff officers of the Potomac Army not assigned to the new provisional corps, have been ordered to proceed to their respective places of residence, whence they will report by letter to the Adjutant-General of the army and await orders.

From statements received at the Agricultural Bureau it appears that the present of the country is less than one hundred million pounds per annum. The number of woolen factories in the country, as reported by the Revenue Assessors, is only seven hundred and sixty-four of which has been received at the Department of Agriculture, and in these alone 11,822,000 pounds of wool were used last year. As large quantities of wool must be imported to meet the demand prices are already rising.

Since writing the first dispatch, I understand John T. Ford has backed out of his agreement with the Young Men's Christian Association and will patriotically accept the additional $50,000 offered by other parties.

The following is an additional list of soldiers buried on the wilderness and Spottsylvania battle fields, most of whom belong to Pennsylvania regiments: John Rice, 45th Pa; Jas. H. Roberts, 45th; L. M. Robinbald, 48th; Robt. A. Roach, 49th; John Ridgway, 121st; Wm. Reynolds, 96th; W. Rodgers, 41st; Rodes, 95th, J. Pitson, 89th; R. R. Ricks, 50th; Samuel Ruth, 72d; B. F. Roland, 61st; F. LETTER FROM ITALIAN MINISTER

Union Ships in Foreign Waters

Sympathy of Italy with the Union.

WASHINGTON, July 2.—The following friendly note has been addressed by Gen. La Marmora, the Prime Minister of Italy, to Mr. Marsh, United States Minister in that country:

FLORENCE, June 6.—Mr. Minister: The transfer of the Capital to Florence has not allowed me to reply sooner to the note you did me the honor to address me on May 5th, communicating to me the proclamation of the late President of the United States, relating to the treatment of ships of war of the Union in foreign waters, and to the closing of certain ports of the United States.

You are aware, Mr. Minister, that the King's government has never concealed its sympathies for the just cause which has obtained such decisive successes; and you have yourself admitted that if we have been obliged to apply in principle to the armed vessels of the United States in the waters of Italy the conditions which our regulations impose upon belligerent vessels, we have taken care to mitigate their enforcement in practice, so as to embarrass as little as possible the entrance of Union ships of war into our ports and roads and their stay at such points, now that the civil war may be considered at an end.

We are happy to be able to give to the Government of the United States new pledges of our continued friendship. We therefore announce that all the restrictions provisionally adopted with reference to the armed vessels of the United States are rescinded, and that hereafter these vessels will be treated in our waters on the footing of the ships of war of other friendly powers in the time of peace. As to the armed vessels of the separatists we hope that none of them will appear on our coast, but if contrary to all probability, any such should present themselves, they would not be received into our ports except in case of necessity, under and circumstances where the laws of humanity would not allow us to reject them, and in that case our authorities will take all the necessary precautions to prevent any inconveniences resulting therefrom. Accept, Mr. Minister, the assurances of my high consideration. (Signed) ALO LA MARMORA.

To Hon. Geo. P. Marsh, Envoy Extraordinary and Minister of the United States.

Soldiers Asking for Clerkships.

Claims for Possession of Pacific R. R.

NEW YORK, July 2.—The Tribune's Washington special says another protest against the appointment of Judge Parsons, as Provisional Governor of Alabama, has been sent to the President and members of the Cabinet.

About fifty applications per day for appointments as clerks and messengers are received in the Treasury Department from soldiers who have been disabled during the war. The department desires to announce that no application from any source can at present be favorably received at present, as no vacancies exist.

Another company from Kansas have filed claims for the possession of the Pacific Railroad in that State. The right of possession of this road has already caused a dispute between the former Secretary of the Interior and the present incumbent, Secretary Harlan, and the claims of this new company will materially complicate affairs.

At a meeting of the Board of Trustees for purchasing Ford's Theatre, held yesterday, the following resolution was passed: Resolved, That the Board appointed at the convention of the Young Men's Christian Association at Philadelphia, on suggestion of parties not residing in Washington, relying upon co-operation so cordially promised them, entered into negotiations with Mr. Ford, and obtained formal refusal of the property until July 1st. Their appeal to the public, so far as it has been possible to make in so short time has met with so little encouragement that they do not feel authorized to close the bargain by making the first payment. They do not relinquish the hope of obtaining it. With this object firmly in mind we will only return their subscriptions to those who may desire it. Mr. Ford intends reopening his theatre a week hence.

Consolidation of Railroads.

FORT WAYNE, July 1.—The stockholders of the Toledo & Wabash, Great Western & Illinois, Quincy & Toledo and Illinois & Southern Iowa Railroad Companies, have, by nearly a unanimous vote, ratified the articles of consolidation agreed to by the directors, and the roads will hereafter be operated under the name of the Toledo, Wabash & Great Western Railroad Company. This consolidation forms one of the longest as well as the most important trunk lines in the country, and is the only line between Lake Erie and the Mississippi river under one organization and of a uniform guage. On Monday next trains will run through from Toledo to Quincy and Keokuk without change of cars. The directors of the new company met at Ft. Wayne this day and organized by the election of Hon. A. Booney as President.

Late Washington Items.

NEW YORK, July 2.—The Herald's Washington special contains the following: The Provisional Corps under Gen. Wright, will encamp for the summer on the upper Potomac. Gen Hunt, chief of artillery goes to Kansas.

General Halleck soon leaves for California.

Gen. Ord is expected to assume command of the Department of Ohio.

Rear Admiral Buchanan, and other rebel naval officers have arrived at Fortress Monroe.

The Seven-Thirty Loan.

PHILADELPHIA, July 2.—The subscriptions to the Seven-thirty Loan on Saturday were $3,610,400. The total subscriptions for the week ending last Saturday, were 15,309,150.

Arrival of Troops.

NEW YORK, July 2.—The steamer Ranger, from Norfolk, arrived this morning with the Thirteenth regiment New York artillery.

The Assassination Trials.

The trial of the assassins at Washington is concluded, and the findings of the Court are now in the hands of the President for his approval. The Court has been in session almost daily for five weeks, and certainly no reasonable man can complain that it has not worked industriously. The following items will give some idea of the immensity of the labor that has devolved upon the Court:

Total number of witnesses subpœned, 467; number of witnesses examined, 361; number examined including recalls, 422; number subpœned for prosecution, 247; number actually examined, 198; number subpœned for defence, 236; number actually examined, 163; total number of pages of testimony (legal cap,) 4,300, making a solid pile of manuscript somewhat over twenty-six inches high; the arguments will make, in addition, 700. The vast mass of depositions, etc., taken by three Judge Advocates, Colonel Burnett, Colonel Foster and Colonel Olcott, prior to the opening of the case, employed five short hand writers a fortnight, and will take two experienced clerks six weeks to brief and file away.

In this, as in all state trials, the Government pays the expenses of witnesses for the defense as well as for the prosecution, at the rate of three dollars per day, and the actual cost of transportation to and from the homes of the witnesses.

The findings will not be made public until approved or disapproved by the President, who, in all convictions, will fix the time and place for carrying the sentences into effect.

THE TURF.

Regular Trotting Races at Woodlawn Park, Louisville—Second Day.

Wednesday there was a larger attendance at the Park than on either of the previous days. The first race was mile heats, 3 best in 5, to harness, for horses that had never trotted for money, for which there were five entries: Brown's Flora May, Dorsey's ch. g., Smith's Nelly, William's Dan Andrews and Johnson's ch. g. The go off for the first heat was as good a one as could be expected with five green horses in the ring.

The following is the summary:

Mile heats, 3 best in 5; for horses, geldings and mares that have never trotted for money in public. Purse $100.

L. L. Dorsey names ch. g	1	1	1
W. Thomas names J. Williams' bk. s. Dan Andrews	3	2	2
Boyd Winchester names H. W. Brown's b. m. Flora May	2	3	3
T. Tyler names J. J. Smith's ch. m. Nelley	dist.
W. E. Milton names Bob Johnson's ch. g	4	dist.

Time—2:45; 2:44—249.

The second race was mile heats, three best in five, for geldings and mares, all ages, for the pool seller's purse of $100. For this purse four horses were entered, viz: Gentle Annie, Rodney, Hermosa and Fanny Burks. Gentle Annie was was withdrawn on account of lameness. In the pools, Hermosa was the favorite at odds against the field. The following is the summary.

R. A. Alexander names b. m. Hermosa	1	1	1
S. W. Shockency names A. Mellon's b. m. Fanny Burks	3	2	2
B. Ormsby names W. Brown's br. g. Rodney	2	3	3
W. E. Milton names R. Johnson's ch. m. Gentle Annie	drawn

Time—2:38½; 2:35; 2:36½.

Thursday there was a fair attendance and a good track. The first race was mile heats, best three in five, for a purse of $100. The annexed summary shows the result of the race:

Mile Heats, 3 best in 5: for Horses, Geldings and Mares that have never trotted in public under 2:50. Purse $100 00.

Boyd Winchester names Robt. Johnson's ch. g.	1	1	1
Penson Ormsby names H. Brown's b. m. Flory	3	3	2
W. E. Milton names J. Williams' bk. s. Dan Andrews	2	2	3

Time—3:49, 2:46, 2:43.

After this a match race for $50 a side was made up between Rodney and Chuckaluck, which was well contested. On the first heat Rodney kept the lead, which he took at the start. During the heat Rodney behaved badly, breaking several times, and although he came to the score first, the heat was decided a dead one. In the second and third heats Rodney took the lead at the start and kept it throughout. The second heat was made in 2:42, and the third heat in 2:42½.

Masonic Celebration.

St. Johns Lodge of Masons, Kittanning, Pa. had a pleasant pic-nic on Tuesday last, at Pleasant Hollow, near that borough. Brethren were present from Brookville, Indiana, Blairsville, Greenburg, Allegheny and Butler. After a number of patriotic airs by the brass band from Pittsburgh, Darwin Phelps, Esq., stated the object of the meeting and introduced Rev. Dr. Killikelly, who made an appropriate prayer. Professor Slack, assisted by Capt. R. P. Crawford and C. Reiter, Esq., sang a suitable melody. Rev. A. H. Thomas, made one of his usual excellent addresses. Dinner was then discussed to the entire satisfaction of the participants. A new flag was displayed showing all the stars of the Union, while under it was another, the Stars and Bars of the Confederacy, a rebel flag captured by Col. Sirwell's 78th regiment, in Tennessee. F. S. Golden, Esq., in a happy speech, pointed out the glory, grandeur and destiny of the one and the short lived history of the other, and concluded with a few happy thoughts eulogistic of the Federal Union and the American Nationality.

St. John's day was approprately celebrated on the 24th ult., by Mount Olivet Lodge, No. 113 of Parkersburg, West Virginia. A procession of members in full regalia was had in the morning, after which they proceeded to the Steamer Linch which had been kindly tendered by Captain Crawford, and were soon gliding down the river to Princes' Grove, just opposite Blannerhassett's Island, where the rest of the day was spent in social intercourse, dancing and promenading as the tastes of each indicated.

Lake Superior News.

The reports from Lake Superior give very satisfactory accounts of the progress of copper mining, among the larger mines, and especially in Ontonagon District. Recent reports from that district say:

The Flint Steel River Mine is looking exceedingly well for copper. At the bottom of No. 1 shaft the vein is very large and well charged with barrel and stamp work, also masses of copper, weighing from one hundred pounds to as high as two tons. To-day they hauled out of this shaft two pieces of copper that will exceed a ton each in weight. The drifts East and West are yielding well in barrel and stamp work.

At No. 2 shaft, the vein is very rich, there being a mass of twenty tons exposed in it, some parts of which are over two feet thick. At the second level the vein shows rich in barrel and stamp work.

No. 3 shaft is also showing very well for copper.

Large quantities of rich stamp work are accumulating upon the surface which, of course, will not be available until the creation of stamps.

GENERAL SHERMAN IN CINCINNATI.—The following is the speech made by General Sherman, last Friday, in Cincinnati:

Gentlemen—Citizens of Cincinnati—As I am not so accustomed to public speaking as my old friend, Mr. Stanberry, who has just addressed me in your behalf, you must bear with me patiently. Mr. Stanberry knew me, and he knew my father before me. He knew me well when I was a little red-headed boy, running about in Lancaster, stealing his cherries. [Laughter.] He knows my heart, and can tell its feelings better than I can express them. But I will tell you, my friends, that it was here in this city, in this very hotel, through which I passed to reach this spot, that General Grant and myself met over a year since; and in that very room we laid down the maps and studied out the campaigns which ended this war. [Immense cheering.]

I had been away down in Mississippi attending to a little matter there [laughter and cheers,] and when Gen. Grant and myself ended our conference here, we separated, he to go to Richmond and I to Atlanta, and the result has been just as we planned it here in 1864. We had but one object to fulfill, to end the war in such a manner as would forever crush out rebellion, and fully establish our nation's glory and integrity, so that no future generation should say we were craven of heart. Grant and Sherman and all patriotic Generals, have had but one idea—the supremacy of our country and our Government. [Enthusiastic cheers for Generals Grant and Sherman.] We may differ as to some little things, but in the one great thing, we do not differ—that this country shall survive in all its greatness. We should not bother ourselves about small matters, but attend to the great interests of the country. Our country now has a good start in life, and its welfare is in our keeping. It is a country wonderful in yet undeveloped resources. In your own beautiful State of Ohio—the finest in this whole country—scarcely one acre of ten is under cultivation. Let us then go on in peace and harmony, with the peaceful pursuits of life. When all is under cultivation and we have a population as dense as that of Europe, it will be soon enough for us to trample on each other's heels. We have a picture of peace now before us—an honorable peace; and, so help me God, I do not want to hear of war again for fifty years to come at least. When other nations attempt to trample on our national rights, we shall have an opportunity of resuming the business of war. But now that the war is over, I am a peace man; all of my army are peace men; Sherman's "bummers"—(laughter)—are all peace men. I thank you, gentleman, for the kindness of your welcome to-night.

STEALING GOVERNMENT BONDS.—A Washington correspondent says: An investigation at the Postoffice Department shows that a considerable number of Government bonds have been abstracted from the mails while in transit from Pittsburgh, Pa., Newark, N. J., and Haverhill, Mass., to Washington. Payment was stopped at the Treasury Department, so no loss occurred. Several arrests were made; but thus far, the guilt has been fixed on no one. Six thousand dollars of bonds were recovered. A broker in Baltimore bought one thousand dollars in fifty dollar bonds, but lost all, as payment was stopped at the Treasury. The investigation is still in progress.

TOO MUCH BRAIN.—A young officer of the Prussian army, one who afterwards became distinguished, was near where a man had been hit by a cannon shot, and his brains scattered in all directions. He stood looking at the shocking sight, when a superior officer, supposing him frightened, spoke encouragingly to him. "Oh!" the youth replied, "I am not frightened; I am only puzzled to make out how a fellow with such a quantity of brains came to be here."

The colored people of Vicksburg protest against the proclamation of the President appointing Judge Sharkey Governor of Mississippi. As regards the non-extention of the elective franchise, they claim that having become freemen, they are entitled to all political rights.

Thomas Carney, President of the Fireman's Insurance Company, died in Boston on Saturday morning.

DIED.

LONG—On June 27th, 1865, MARY E. FOSTER. On July 1st, 1865, LIZZIE VERNER, infant daughters of Joseph W. and Mary Y. Long.

The funeral will take place from the residence of the parents, No. 97 Robinson street, below Federal, Allegheny City, on MONDAY, 3d inst., at 10 O'CLOCK A. M. Friends of the family are invited to attend.

VERNER—Sunday evening, at 8½ o'clock, ALICE IRWIN, daughter of Jas. and Anna M. Verner, aged 6 months and 14 days.

Notice of funeral in evening papers.

EDGAR—On Sunday morning, July 2d, at 4½ o'clock, WM. M. EDGAR, in the 56th year of his age.

Funeral THIS DAY (Monday), from his late residence, No. 150 Grant street, at 4 o'clock P. M. The friends of the family are respectfully invited to attend.

Suffrage an Inherent and Inalienable Right.

The New York News, contends that it is for the interest of the late slaveholders in the South to let the negroes vote, because they will be faithful allies. It argues, furthermore, that "suffrage is an inherent and inalienable right." This principle is accepted by the Cincinnati Gazette as "impregnable." If the argument proves anything, it proves the great injustice that has been and still is deliberately perpetrated against the negro in Ohio and other States, where he is persistently denied the "inherent and inalienable right" of suffrage. If suffrage is an "inherent and inalienable right" in Georgia, Alabama, or anywhere else, it is not less so in Ohio, Pennsylvania, and in every State that does not recognize it. Since the responsibility belongs to the States, and each must answer for itself, not one for the other, every consideration of decency and justice demands that before any of them cry out against the injustice of denying suffrage to the negro elsewhere, itself should, at the very least, manifest a disposition to give it to him. In Ohio the negro is absolutely disfranchised on his color; likewise in Pennsylvania, to say nothing of other States, some of which still, or lately did, banish him from their borders. We venture to suggest that the very least the Gazette can do, is to raise its voice in favor of the "inalienable and inherent right" in Ohio, and not cease to cry aloud till the negro is enfranchised there. About the right, to say nothing of duty, to do this, there can be no dispute, whereas, there may be a question whether it can demand the adoption of the principle in another State. If there is anything "impregnable," we humbly suggest, this is just it.

What Does He Think About?

The tall, thin, gloomy man, in his prison, with none to command and none to speak to—what does he think about in his long, lonely days? Mr. JEFFERSON DAVIS was highly indignant at being placed in "durance vile" and fed with the same fare that our brave soldiers subsist on. We rather suspect that it was not the hard-tack that disturbed his dignity and stirred his temper, so much as "the bitter cud" of thought and recollection that he had to chew. Solitude, prison walls and plain diet are not, we imagine, his hardest experiences. Cut off from active life, from cabinets and camps, with no ambitious schemes to occupy his mind, and no boastful and lying papers to while away the tedious hours, he is left alone, with time for thought, an active mind, and a long, dark criminal past to think of.

Fancy cannot but try her powers to accompany the movements of his mind. Does it not often take a sober turn, after mad passion has fretted itself to rest? The ephemeral glory of the Presidency, then, appears less grand than it did in its beginning. Swinging back and forth, between the hopes of other days, now crushed, and the stern realities of these unlooked for times, his mind exaggerates, if possible, the painful contrasts in his condition of fame—the power and weakness, the man he was and what he is, his lofty flights and deeper falls, the honors and the half-suspected curses of his own people, his robe of office and his base disguise, the President and the prisoner—Hyperion and the Satyr.

Does his ambition sometimes turn upon himself, and from the dark corners of his prison jeer and taunt him, till in madness he exclaims, like fallen WOOLSEY,

"Vain pomp and glory of this world, I hate ye?"

Or, does the truth, that he has been worse than fool, gloomily beset his soul, producing a half conviction, and a half repentence, so that he is constrained to use King RICHARD's words, without their irony,

"Nay, if I turn my eyes upon myself,
I find myself a traitor?"

Does he ever dream, waking or sleeping, of thousands of brave men turned into horrid places, to die of sickness, hunger and misery? Do their wasted, ghostlike forms ever surround him in his prison, or their haggard features ever startle him as he is upon his bed? There is a book upon his table. He looks into its solemn pages. How do its lessons affect his mind? It was wise and kind to give him that honest volume, as his companion. Do his thoughts follow occasionally its monitions, its counsels? With that companion, we leave him. Fancy fails in her efforts to accompany the movements of that mind, of great, perverted powers, in the depths of its fall and the greatness of its misery.

Their Professions.

The professions that men make must be taken in the absence of inconsistent acts, as an indication of their principles. It is against all human experience that whole communities and States, should aver their adhesion to certain ideas, and repudiate them in practice. Individuals deceive and dissimulate, nations never. Thus, when we find the whole South rising up or coming forward sueing for pardon, and taking the oath of allegiance to the government, what are we to believe? Is it all a falsehood and a delusion, intended to ensnare us into again taking them into our confidence? Is it possible that these millions by common consent, have simultaneously, in the moment of their fall, conspired to perpetrate a fraud, that could but intensify their own misfortunes? We will not believe it. No matter what are their antecedents or thwarted works, their sheer necessity must compel them to renounce their disloyal schemes. "Necessity knows no law;" it rules men in all situations. Are there people to utterly forego all hope and desire for property and honorable livelihood? They know the conditions of security for life and property and have a fearfully realizing sense of what the pursuit of happiness means. Of what avail is it that they are influenced by the penalties of treason impending over them? Is it a new thing that men should be swayed by their fears? Has not this principle been a foundation stone in civil or barbarian Government from the very beginning? The fear of punishment—the dread of impending evil, eradicates error and produces reforms alike in nations and individuals.

The very celerity that brings these men to an acknowledgement of their crimes may be the evidence of the thoroughness of their repentance. Were they sluggish and dilatory in their protestations of submission, their genuineness would be more open to question. We cannot but look upon their actions, charitably construed, but as an evidence of a purpose on their part to make the best of the circumstances that surround them. Such a view of the situation, if consistently practical North and South, closes all agitation, and holds out a sure hope, not of the restoration, but the establishment of an "era of good feeling."

Interesting Torpedo Experiments.

An interesting and scientific torpedo test was given in New York harbor, a few days since, in the presence of several distinguished naval officers and others. Shells were exploded at the depth of fifteen feet, and one from the bow, in the usual shape of a buoyant percussion shell, containing a charge of sixty pounds, which raised a large column of water, submarine shells, &c. This torpedo was exploded about one-quarter of a mile from the vessel, near Governor's Island, with terrible effect. The tests were most gratifying and successful, there being no failure in any case, the time occupied being but a very few minutes, clearly demonstrating the efficiency and destructive power of these torpedoes.

THE HIGH PRICES OF MEATS AND THE GROWTH OF STOCK.—The Pennsylvania Agricultural Society are making an effort to induce farmers to go more extensively into stock growing, on the ground that the present high prices of cattle is owing to a scarcity in consequence of the war. To this end the President of the Society has addressed a letter to the Commissioner of Agriculture, in which he says that in view of the past consumption, "the most strenuous efforts will be necessary, on the part of the farmer, to prevent an absolute scarcity, particularly in the product of beef cattle, and that beef must soon be sold at rates that few will be able to afford. The high prices at present offered by butchers have tempted farmers to part with their largest and best formed cows, which, under different circumstances, would have been retained for breeding, and the most healthy and vigorous heifer calves have been sold with them. From this cause most farmers exhibit a poor, ungainly stock of cattle compared to what it formerly was."

CINCINNATI AND THE SOUTH.—We learn from the Gazette that the credit system is getting a foothold in the dry goods trade again, and that this is extending to the South. Goods have been sold to Southern merchants within the last few days on four months' time. Bankers were felt of as to their disposition in regard to the paper. The response was unfavorable. However merchants may be disposed to take risks, now that the trade is dull, capitalists are very decidedly opposed to the re-establishment of the old credit system.

NEVER has the saying, that man is disposed to trouble himself with wrongs afar off, while those all around him go unredressed, had so apt an illustration, as in the fact that Chief Justice CHASE travelled "down the coast and up the Mississippi," in behalf of suffrage for the benighted freedmen in the South, and returned to Ohio to find the intelligent negro there disfranchised by laws co-existent with the State.

The Future of Political Parties.

The Chicago Republican, the new journal of which Mr. DANA is the Editor, is in favor of pursuing a liberal policy towards that section of the Democratic party agreeing with the President's policy, and of receiving them in the spirit in which they come, and says the country needs all the strength that can possibly be secured on the loyal side. It argues that severe contests must hereafter arise, and that disguised as may be the issues, whether on finance, the tariff, or the status of the negro, State rights against national unity will underlie them all.

The extreme Democrat will always take the side of State rights, and the great strength of the Union party on the other hand, will consist in showing that any particular measure will strengthen the bond of union and add to the positive force of the Government. We make the following extract:

The great fight to be made by the democracy hereafter will be upon the subject of taxation, its alleged inequality, and also the benefits it gives to the manufacturing and monetary interests of the country, at the expense of others. It is as certain as night follows the day that the declaration of any administration policy by the President will array the country in two parties, or perhaps three, and that those parties will contain elements not at present combined in either of those now existing. For four years the President is to have the initiative in all national measures. Those previous to, and during the war, have ceased to have any living application, because the questions of the past have been settled forever. Those to come will be applicable to circumstances as they exist or may arise.

Parties will, accordingly, array themselves in accordance with the views or instincts of the individuals who compose them. But generally the division will be upon the question of supporting or opposing the administration, which will be compelled to lay down certain principles of future action. We may drift along in time of war, taking advantage of circumstances as they arise, but in peace the administration must lay down a distinctive line of policy, founded upon principle, and adhere to it to the end. I have reason to know that Mr. Lincoln was perfecting his programme of policy previous to his death; and also that it was of such a character as would have alienated a large portion of his own party from him, and on the other hand secured him the support of a large mass of the opposition. It may be that the full promulgation of President Johnson's policy will produce a similar result. In fact, I notice indications already that it inevitably must—but not, probably, to the extent of Mr. Lincoln's. Still there will, no doubt, be some disaffection on the part of the more impracticable men of the country, and this disaffection will have to be made good by the adhesion of the more practicable.

South Carolina.

The appointment of Mr. PERRY Provisional Governor of South Carolina, leaves but two more States to be put on the track of reconstruction. With Mr. PERRY the President has had long acquaintance, which fact determined the selection from a list of several distinguished South Carolinians. He is understood to be as near the President in his views as could be expected, and much nearer than the other applicants were.

QUESTION AND ANSWER.—Rev. Mr. GARNET, a colored preacher of much ability in New York, in a recent speech, asked: "Was not JEFF. DAVIS' coachman as well qualified to vote as himself? or the educated, wealthy colored man as the German or Irishman who yesterday arrived on our shores?" The answer Mr. GARNET will find recorded in the statute books of nearly all the States, not only South but North. Will Mr. G. ask Mr. CHASE not to expend all his breath demanding negro suffrage in Alabama, but spare some of it to petition for suffrage for the negro in his own State?

AN interview between President JOHNSON and Senator SUMNER, is reported to have taken place not long since, which ended in the former giving the latter to understand that while he despised a secessionist he felt quite as hearty detestation for a fanatic, whereat the Senator withdrew, considerably excited.

A CONVENTION OF BRIGADIERS.—A convention of Brigadier Generals is said to be on the tapis in Boston. It is suggested that invitations be sent to the battalion that have been doing duty on Pennsylvania avenue, in Washington, for some time past.

THE mails between Washington and the West, taken from the Baltimore and Ohio road, during the war, have been restored to that route.

Ohio Wool Premiums.

In compliance with a resolution passed at the last State Agricultural Convention, the Ohio State Board of Agriculture offer the following premiums, with a view to ascertain the amount of shrinkage in unwashed wool:

For the heaviest fleece of scoured wool produced by a ram.........$20
For the heaviest fleece of scoured wool produced by an ewe.........20

The fleeces are to be sent in an unwashed state to the Agricultural Rooms in Columbus previous to August 1st, accompanied by a pedigree of the sheep which produced them, and an affidavit setting forth the time and manner of shearing in 1864 and 1865, that the fleece presented is the production of one sheep in that time, the weight of sheep after shearing, condition of the same, and manner of keeping for the past year. With the fleeces of ewes, parties will be required to state whether they have suckled lambs the present season—with aged ewes, if they did so in 1864. In making awards, due regard will be paid to the per centage of wool produced, compared with the live weight of the animal. The Committee will carefully weigh and number each fleece, sending them to be scoured without the name of the owner. The awards will be made and the fleeces exhibited at the State Fair, Sept. 12th and 15th, after which they will be returned to their respective owners.

DISCIPLINE IN THE ARMY.—Many of the regiments in the army of the United States were especially noted for their discipline, and the officers of several of the regiments from this State were looked upon as the best disciplinarians in the service. An incident is related to show to what extent a soldier can be taught to follow the army regulations, even under the most trying circumstances. Two brothers enlisted for the war, one entering the Massachusetts Eleventh regiment, and the other the Sixteenth regiment, which was attached to the same brigade. During the battle of Chancellorsville, the soldiers rushed out of the woods in which they had been fighting, and an attempt was made to rally the men around their regimental colors. The brother belonging to the Eleventh was struck by a shell while hastening to join his comrades, and terribly mangled. The colors of the two regiments were but a short distance apart and the other brother having come out of the fight safe was standing near the Lieutenant Colonel of his regiment when he saw his brother fall. With his gun in his hand he advanced to that officer, gave him the accustomed salute, stated that his brother had just been shot down and requested permission to go out and assist him to the rear. The officer was surprised at this exhibition of discipline under such sad cirumstances, and told the soldier not to wait for ceremony but to hasten forward to the relief of his brother. The wounded man was borne to the rear where he died shortly afterwards, his last moments being cheered by the presence of his loving brother. Both bore excellent reputations in their respective regiments, and both gave up their lives for their country, the second brother being killed in one of the battles of Gen. Grant's campaign last spring.

AFFAIRS IN CHARLESTON.—Much sickness prevails among the negro population in Charleston, S. C., owing to the congregating from the country, where they have had pure water and regular diet. During one week ninety died, and only one of the whites. There is but little work for them, but most of them are quite willing to labor. In the country there is not much work for them, as very little planting has been done this season. There is very little sickness among the white residents, and they anticipate a healthy summer. The buzzards, which in former years were the scavengers of the city, and were protected by public opinion if not by law, have now returned, and operate about the market. They were absent during the war, feasting on other fields. The quantity of rice is limited, and none of the plantations being worked this year, the supply will be exhausted before another season's crop can be secured. The city is flooded with returned rebel soldiers, many from the interior going there. The cost of living is quite reasonable. Good beefsteaks can be purchased at twenty-five cents per lb; lamb and mutton at twenty to twenty-five; new potatoes, $4 per bushel; onions and turnips, large bunches for 10 cents; tomatoes, 50 cents per peck; watermelons, 50 to 75 cents each.

THE BONDS OF 1881.—The Government commenced paying, on Saturday, the semi-annual interest on its bonds of 1881, and on several other smaller loans, in gold. The whole amount to be paid out by the Treasury, all over the country, is about nine millions of dollars. So much of the interest as is due on coupons has, no doubt, to a considerable extent, been realized through their sale to brokers. All the interest on the registered 6s is payable to-day. Holders of the bonds in and near Philadelphia will receive their interest of the Assistant Treasurer, at the Mint. If unknown to the officers of the Government having the payment in charge, it is necessary, to prevent delay, for the holder to take with him his bonds.

NEW INVENTION.—A London paper gives the following account of a new kind of cloth manufactured from pine leaves: There are two establishments near Breslau, in one of which pine leaves are converted into wool, while in the other, for invalids, the waters used in the manufacture of pine wool are employed as curative agents. The process of converting the pine needles into wool was discovered by Mr. Pannewitz. In the hospitals, penitentiaries, and barracks of Vienna and Breslau, blankets made from that material are now exclusively used. One of their chief advantages is, that no kind of vermin will lodge in them. The material is also used as stuffing, closely resembles horse hair, and is only one-third its cost.

INTERESTING FACTS CONCERNING LABOR IN SAXONY.—The Secretary of the Ohio State Agricultural Society, in his last letter to the Columbus, O., Journal, says: "The farm laborer now gets 15 to 20 groschens (37½ to 50 cents) per day, and the women get 8 to 10 groschens (20 to 25 cents) ... per day. Women and dogs perform a ... amount of labor here; you will find everywhere, on the streets and in the country a woman and dog harnessed to a wagon, loaded heavy enough for a horse. All over Germany, from Halstein here to Saxony, I have seen more women than men at work in the fields, and doing the severest kind of drudgery. The men are employed in mechanical pursuits, or else are in the army.

General Intelligence.

They are going to provide a dinner for the soldiers on the fourth in Cincinnati.

Nearly all the Masonic lodges in this State intend visiting Gettysburg on the Fourth.

Three-fourths of the laborers in the Navy Yard at Philadelphia are being discharged.

There is a child in Manchester, Va., only two years old, weighing two hundred pounds—fifty pounds more than either of its parents.

Michael Andrews an old and highly esteemed citizen of Philadelphia, died last Tuesday in that city at the age of seventy-six.

Some thousands of soldiers at Norfolk have been paid off since last December. It is charged that the Paymasters have had plenty of money to pay them, but that they have been using it for speculative purposes.

A correspondent says perfect order now reigns in Richmond. There are a few occasional robberies and fisticuffs, but, as a general thing, no city in the Union of the same size is more orderly than Richmond.

A mass meeting of the colored people of Virginia, is called to meet in Alexandria on the 2d of August, for the purpose of consultation on their future course. A large representation from different parts of the State will be present.

A man stopped at a hotel in New York and deposited $25,000. It was stolen by a clerk of the hotel. A court recently gave the lodger only $1,000 damages, on the ground that the first-named sum was an unreasonable deposit.

The Toronto Leader's correspondence from Montreal, is obliged to admit that "the annexation movement is making headway, and some leading merchants of the city (Montreal) are engaged in it."

A young merchant of Memphis, Tenn., whose father loaned him $14,000 to commence business with, fell in with some gamblers on his way east—stopped at Niagara Falls—engaged in gambling with them, and lost all of his money. The gamblers are in custody in New York.

From an official report just made to the Board of Supervisors of the city of New York, it appears that the whole number of men enlisted from the city and county of New York, during the war, was 116,382, at a net expenditure of $14,577,215.

It is alleged that it has been determined to remove into obscurity the bust of the late ex-President John Tyler, hitherto standing in the Virginia State Library. Some affirm that Tyler in addition to being a traitor to his country, likewise betrayed the old whig party.

It is now known that it was contemplated by the rebels last summer to blow up the Watervliet arsenal, opposite Troy, N. Y. The plan was a part of the one which succeeded in the well remembered explosion of the powder boat at City Point.

A number of families in Jersey City have formed an Anti-Meat Club, whereby they pledge themselves to totally abstain from meats of all kinds for two weeks, hoping thereby to bring down the present exorbitant prices of meats.

The New Orleans Times says:—We regret to learn from a gentleman who arrived yesterday from Pascagoula, Miss., that many people at that place are suffering for the necessaries of life. Some relief is afforded by the selling of wild grapes and berries for money with which to procure bread.

The last Legislature of Maine passed bills to incorporate twenty-four manufacturing companies, with an aggregate capital stock of $5,341,000. There are other schemes, not dependent upon the Legislature, started by single individuals or simple copartnerships, which are absorbing the surplus labor of that State.

The colored Masons held a meeting in West Chester last week to dedicate their hall. There were three or four lodges represented, among which was the Grand Lodge of Pennsylvania—colored Masons. They marched through the different streets, preceded by a band of music. They looked well, and their conduct and deportment was unexceptionable.

Spain availed herself of the opportunity of our war to attack the weaker powers of South America. She is trying to force the Chilian Government to coal her squadron. Chili refuses to do so, and the Spaniards are assuming a belligerent attitude. The presence of the United States squadron in the Chilian waters may have the effect of restraining the would-be dictators.

The citizens of Wayne township, Armstrong county, Pa., are making preparations to get up a sumptuous dinner for all returned soldiers. The soldiers from Madison, Mahoning, Piner Cowanshannock, Redbank and Wayne townships are invited. They are to have a grand review near Ecno Post-office, and then a dinner, music, and addresses suitable to the ever memorable occasion.

A land slide on the Redwood river has brought to light a coal bed which is three feet thick, three hundred and fifty feet wide, and nobody knows how long. It makes quite an excitement in that region, but will probably prove to be drift coal. This coal mine is about one hundred and ten miles West of St. Paul, and is within a mile of the Minnesota river.

Some little excitement prevails in Steubenville, caused by a rumor that the machine shops of the Steubenville and Indiana railroad, located in that city, are to be removed to Urichsville, Tuscarawas county. The citizens of Steubenville subscribed $500,000 to the building of the road, with the understanding that the machine shops were to be located there, and their removal would resemble something very much like a breach of faith.

An investigation at the Post-office Department shows that a considerable number of Government bonds have been abstracted from the mails while in transit from Pittsburgh, Pa., Newark, N. J., and Haverill, Mass., to Washington. Payment was stopped at the Treasury Department, so no loss occurred. Several arrests were made, but thus far the guilt has been fixed on no one. Six thousand dollars of bonds were recovered. A bank in Baltimore bought one thousand in fifty-dollar bonds and lost all. Payment was stopped at the Treasury Department. Investigation is still in progress.

A Brownsville correspondent of the New York Herald gives information of the capture of correspondence between the rebel General J. E. Slaughter and the Mexican Imperialist, General Mejia, showing very clearly that the trade in cotton by the rebel government was recognized by Maximilian and his authorities, and that about two million dollars worth of cotton was carried across the Rio Grande to Mexico, through the connivance of the Mexican authorities subsequent to the surrender of the rebel General Kirby Smith. If official inquiry proves the correctness of this report our government will no doubt demand its restoration.

Chief Justice Chase was in Cleveland a few days ago.

The President will not be able to go to Gettysburg on the 4th of July, as announced.

The degree of L. L. D., was conferred on President Johnson, by Columbia College, New York, at its recent commencement.

Governor Curtin is making arrangements to procure a list of Pennsylvania soldiers who died in all the rebel prisons, so as to enable their friends to recover and remove their remains.

John Armstrong, Postmaster of Springfield, Ill., who was arrested on Saturday last for robbing the mails, has been indicted for the offence by the Grand Jury. He had heretofore bore a most exemplary character.

Lord Palmerston, it is stated, will retire from public life as soon as the pending appeal to the country is finished. His increasing infirmities and failing health are the reasons alleged for his retirement.

A second letter has, it is said, been addressed to Prince Napoleon, by the Emperor, the tone of which is very much more friendly than that of the one published in the Moniteur. The Empress, too, appears to have relented towards her imprudent cousin.

General Rosecrans has taken passage in the California steamer. He has obtained leave of absence for six months. He is going to spend some time in Nevada. His friends in New York intend to give him, this evening, a "bumper at parting."

Osbon, the naval reporter, was released from confinement to-day, by order of General Dix, who approved of the findings of the court-martial. The verdict is said to be in Osbon's favor, though it is understood he is, as yet, only on his parole.

Col. Forney makes an allusion to Maximilian, the forlorn and soon to be fugitive Emperor of the French power in Mexico. He seems to think that Santa Anna has a better chance for the halls of the Montezumas than the brother of Francis Joseph, of Austria.

Gen. Robert E. Lee and family left New York city on the 28th ult., for Cartersville, Cumberland County, near which place they will occupy for the summer, a cottage on a small farm. A citizen of Richmond has proffered him one of the finest farms in Orange County, which another offered to stock. The offer was declined.

A New York correspondent says: Here are the latest weddings:—At Christ Curch, Brooklyn, Frederick Hudson, to Miss Mary E. S., daughter of D. W. Warren, of Brooklyn; at St. George's, Flushing, Rufus W. Leavitt, to Maria C. youngest daughter of Morris Franklin, Esq., of this city. Mr. Hudson is a well-known member of the "fourth estate."

NO FENCES IN GERMANY.—The Secretary of the Ohio Agricultural Society is now travelling in Germany. Speaking of the country near Dresden, he says: "Every foot of land not in forests is cultivated. There are no fences; the field is plowed up to the roadside, and fruits and flowers are growing by every roadside that I have traveled; no one disturbs them. The cattle, sheep and swine are kept in the stables, or, if taken out, are under the charge of a shepherd or herdsman. Here and there, dotted over the landscape, we saw sheep in pasture, but have seen no cattle or swine 'running about loose.' The genus 'loafer' is unknown here."

CLEARING OF JAMES RIVER.—General Ord adopted the wise policy of causing the rebel officer who planted the James river with sensitive and other torpedoes to be hunted up and turned over to Brigadier General Michie, of the engineers—a most enterprising officer, charged with the duty of removing them—all which work has been faithfully done. Colonel Wm. L. ..., Chief Quartermaster of the department, ... ected to clear the obstructions from the ... was ... er sufficiently to allow of the passage ... James river ..., which has also been accomplished. ... of steamer...

Crop News.

The Wheeling Intelligencer says: The wheat harvest is nearly over. We are informed by the farmers that the crop is short, and the quantity very inferior. The frequent rains produce a very heavy growth of straw, while the hot sunshine caused it to ripen too quick, producing rust and shriveling the grain. All other crops are very promising, and we will doubtless be blessed with a bountiful supply of all the staples of agriculture.

It is stated that the apple crop in Western New York will be enormous. The probability is that a larger quantity will be shipped for market from that section than ever before.

The New Albany Ledger says:—The farmers in this section have not for many years had as favorable a harvest season as the present. The warm and dry weather has enabled them to reap and secure their crops without annoyance from "sprouting," and the yield has been large. These results are particularly gratifying at the present time, as there will be a large demand for produce of all kinds in the South the coming season, and ready markets and fair prices will reward the toil of the agriculturists of the North.

The Peoria Transcript says:—In the counties below us, on the river, the harvest has commenced in earnest. The wheat and rye crops are excellent, and are represented to us as being larger than formerly, more breadth of ground being under cultivation. This shows that our farmers have not neglected their business, even if there was a scarcity of laborers in the country. As a general thing, the wheat is freer from rust and smut than usual, and we may therefore rest under the anticipation of having cheap and white breadstuffs the present season in real abundance.

The Chillicothe, Ohio, Advertiser, of June 29, says:—A considerable quantity of wheat has been harvested in this county. It will hardly be an average crop. The heads, in many localities, are short and light, and in others has been injured by the rust.

The harvesting of wheat commenced with great vigor in Madison and St. Clair counties, Illinois, and thence east to the Wabash river, on Wednesday, the 21st ult. The yields in most cases are enormous, the earth almost groaning under the weight of the shocks of grain.

TO CONSUMPTIVES.

The advertiser, having been restored to health in a few weeks, by a very simple remedy, after having suffered several years with a severe lung affection, and that dread disease, Consumption—is anxious to make known to his fellow-sufferers the means of cure.

To all who desire it, he will send a copy of the prescription used (free of charge), with the directions for preparing and using the same, which they will find a sure cure for Consumption, Asthma, Bronchitis, &c. The only object of the advertiser in sending the Prescription is to benefit the afflicted, and spread information which he conceives to be invaluable, and he hopes every sufferer will try his remedy, as it will cost them nothing, and may prove a blessing. Parties wishing the prescription will please address Rev. EDWARD A. WILSON, Williamsburgh, Kings county, New York.

Dr. Wilson's Recipe and Medicine can be procured at JOSEPH FLEMING'S Drug and Patent Medicine Depot, No. 84 Market street, corner of the Diamond, near Fourth street, Pittsburgh. jy3-3t

MODERN MIRACLE.—FROM OLD and young, from rich and poor, from high-born and lowly, comes the universal voice of praise for HALL'S VEGETABLE SICILIAN HAIR RENEWER. It is a perfect and miraculous article; cures baldness, makes Hair grow. A better dressing than any Oil or Pomatum. Softens harsh, dry and wiry hair into beautiful silken tresses. But above all, the great wonder is the rapidity with which it restores GRAY HAIR TO ITS ORIGINAL COLOR. Use it a few times, and, presto, change the whitest and worst looking Hair resumes its youthful beauty. It does not dye the Hair, but strikes at the root, and fills it with new life and coloring matter. It will not take a long, disagreeable trial to prove the truth of this matter. The first application will do good; you will see the natural color returning every day, and before you know it, the old, gray, discolored appearance of the Hair will be gone, giving place to lustrous, shining and beautiful locks. Ask for Hall's Sicilian Hair Renewer; no other article is at all like it in effect. You will find it cheap to buy, pleasant to try, and sure to do you good. There are many imitations. Be sure you procure the genuine, manufactured only by R. P. Hall & Co., Nashua, N. H.

CAUTION TO DEALERS IN India Rubber & Gutta Percha Combs.

The Hard Rubber Patents of NELSON GOODYEAR have been extended for seven years from May 6th, 1865.

The INDIA RUBBER COMB CO. of New York has the exclusive right to make and sell India Rubber and Gutta Percha Combs. On each of its combs is stamped "I. R. COMB CO., GOODYEAR'S PATENT, MAY 6, 1851."

The United States Courts have fully sustained these Patents, and all infringers have been made to pay costs and damages. Judge Nelson, of the Supreme Court of the United States, has recently punished, by fine and imprisonment, parties who have violated the injunction of the Court by manufacturing and selling infringing Combs. The customers of the Company are requested to inform the undersigned of parties who make or sell these Combs. Any expense incurred in giving this notice will be repaid, and parties giving important information will be liberally rewarded. Workmen employed in making these Combs will be paid by the Company, 44 Cliff street, New York, from $100 to $1,000, according to the nature and extent of the case, for information that will secure a judgment against infringing manufacturers. ALEXANDER H. MILLER, 93 Diamond street, Attorney for the Company.

U. S. Circuit Court, for the Southern District of New York, June 12, 1865. Before Judge Shipman.

VIOLATING AN INJUNCTION.—H. B. Goodyear and C. Poppenhusen vs. Peter Flemish.—This was a motion to punish defendant for violation of an injunction by making and selling India Rubber and Gutta Percha Combs. Judge Nelson expressed himself with great severity against these infringers, who disregard the authority of the court by persisting in the manufacture and sale of these Combs, and said that they must and shall be stopped. As the defendant had already been imprisoned a week for want of bail, Judge Shipman fined him $100, and ordered his imprisonment to continue for twenty days longer, and that he remain in prison until the fine be paid. jy1-1w

THE NATION.

A Weekly Journal of Politics,

LITERATURE SCIENCE AND ART.

Will be Published July 6th, 1865,

NO. 130 NASSUA ST., N. Y.

TERMS—Three Dollars per annum, in advance; Six months, Two Dollars.

The following writers, among others, have been secured, either as regular or occasional contributors:

Henry W. Longfellow,	Judge Daley,
James Russell Lowell,	Judge Wayland,
John G. Whittier,	Frederick Law Olmstead,
Samuel Eliot, (ex-Presid't Trin. Col., Hartford),	Rev. Dr. McClintock,
	Rev. Dr. J. P. Thompson,
Prof. Torry, (Harvard),	Rev. Dr. Steele,
Dr. Francis Lieber,	C. J. Stille,
Prof. Goldwin Smith, (Oxford),	Henry T. Tuckerman,
	Bayard Taylor,
Prof. Child, (Harvard),	C. A. Bristed,
Charles E. Norton,	C. L. Brace,
Judge Bond, (Baltimore),	Richard Grant White,
Edmund Quincy,	William Lloyd Garrison,
Prof. W. D. Whitney, (Yale),	Sidney George Fisher,
	Theodore Tilton,
Prof. D. C. Gilman, (Yale),	James Parton,
Prof. Dwight, (Columbia College),	Gail Hamilton,
	R. H. Stoddard.

The diversity of character and talent comprehended in this list will show the variety of subjects to be discussed, while the well-known views of the gentlemen here mentioned, will indicate the nature and general bearing of the paper, better than could be done by any mere abstract statement.

ITS MAIN OBJECTS:

FIRST—The discussion of the topics of the day, and, above all, of legal, economical and constitutional questions, with greater accuracy and moderation than are now to be found in the daily press.

SECOND—The maintenance and diffusion of true democratic principles in society and government, and the advocacy and illustration of whatever in legislation or in manners seems likely to promote a more equal distribution of the fruits of progress and civilization.

THIRD—The earnest and persistent consideration of the laboring class at the South, as a matter of vital interest to the nation at large, with a view to the removal of all artificial distinctions between them and the rest of the population, and the securing to them, as far as education and justice can do it, of equal chance in the race of life.

FOURTH—The enforcement and illustration of the doctrine that the whole community has the strongest interest, both moral, political and material, in their elevation, and that there can be no real stability for the Republic, so long as they are left in ignorance and degradation.

FIFTH—The fixing of public attention upon the political importance of popular education, and the dangers which a system like ours runs from the neglect of it in any portion of our territory.

SIXTH—The collection and diffusion of trustworthy information as to the condition and prospects of the Southern States, the openings they offer to capital, the supply and kind of labor which can be obtained in them, and the progress made by the colored population in acquiring the habits and desires of civilized life.

SEVENTH—Sound and impartial criticism of books and works of art.

THE NATION will not be the organ of any party, sect, or body. It will, on the contrary, make an earnest effort to bring to the discussion of political and social questions a really critical spirit, and to wage war upon the vices of violence, exaggeration and misrepresentation, by which so much of the political writing of the day is marred.

The criticism of books and works of art will form one of its most prominent features; and pains will be taken to have this task performed in every case by writers possessing special qualifications for it.

It is intended, in the interest of investors, as well as of the public generally, to have questions of trade and finance treated every week by a writer whose position and character will give his articles an exceptional value, and render them a safe and trustworthy guide.

A special correspondent, who has been selected for his work with some care, is about to start in a few days for a journey through the South. His letters will appear every week, and he is charged with the duty of simply reporting what he sees and hears, leaving the public as far as possible to draw its own inferences.

Such a paper is at this moment a national necessity. Such a paper it is intended, if possible, to make the journal which is now commended to the public.

In the matter of typographical execution and editorial appearance, we do not hesitate to say that THE NATION will be superior to anything now published in this country. It will be a folded quarto of 32 pages, a size easily handled and convenient for binding. The price will be $3 per annum, making it, all things considered, the cheapest paper in the country, and will be for sale by all the principal news dealers.

By authority of the Secretary of the Treasury, the undersigned, the General Subscription Agent for the sale of United States Securities offers to the public the third series of Treasury notes, bearing seven and three tenths per cent. interest per annum, known as the 7-30 LOAN.

These notes are issued under date of July 15, 1865, and are payable three years from that date in currency, or are convertible at the option of the holder into

U. S. 5-20 Six Per Cent.

GOLD BEARING BONDS.

These bonds are now worth a handsome premium and are exempt, as are all the Government Bonds from State, County and Municipal taxation, which adds from one to three per cent. per annum to their value according to the rate levied upon other property. The interest is payable semi-annually by coupons attached to each note, which may be cut off and sold to any bank or banker.

The interest at 7.30 per cent amounts to

One cent per day on a $50 note.
Two cents per day on a $100 note.
Ten cents per day on a $500 note.
Twenty cents per day on a $1,000 note.
One dollar per day on a $5,000 note.

Notes of all the denominations named will be promptly furnished upon receipt of subscriptions.

The Notes of this Third Series are precisely similar in form and privileges to the Seven-Thirties already sold, except that the Government reserves to itself the option of paying interest in gold coin at 6 per cent., instead of 7 3-10ths in currency. Subscribers will deduct the interest in currency up to July 15, at the time when they subscribe.

The delivery of the notes of this Third Series of the Seven-Thirties will commence on the first of June, and will be made promptly and continuously after that date.

The slight change made in the conditions of this THIRD SERIES affects only the matter of interest. The payment in gold, if made, will be equivalent to the currency interest of the higher rate.

The return to specie payments, in the event of which only will the option to pay interest in gold be availed of, would so reduce and equalize prices that purchases made with six per cent. in gold would be fully equal to those made with seven and three-tenths per cent., currency. This is

THE ONLY LOAN IN MARKET,

Now offered by the Government, and its superior advantages make it the great

Popular Loan of the People.

Less than $230,000,000 of the Loan authorized by Congress are now on the market. This amount, at the rate at which it is being absorbed, will all be subscribed for within sixty days, when the notes will undoubtedly command a premium, as has uniformly been the case on closing the subscriptions to other loans.

In order that citizens of every town and section of the country may be afforded facilities for taking the loan, the National Banks, State Banks, and private bankers throughout the country have generally agreed to receive subscriptions at par. Subscribers will select their own agents, in whom they have confidence, and who only are to be responsible for the delivery of the notes for which they receive orders.

THE FIRST NATIONAL BANK OF PITTSBURGH, PA., (late Pittsburgh Trust Company.) Capital $500,000, paid in, with privilege to increase to $1,000,000.

The Pittsburgh Trust Company having organized under the Act to provide a National Currency, under the title of the FIRST NATIONAL BANK OF PITTSBURGH, would respectfully offer its services for the collection of Notes, Drafts, Bills of Exchange, &c.; receive money on deposit, and buy and sell Exchange on all parts of the country.

The success which has attended the Pittsburgh Trust Company since its organization in 1852, will, we believe, be a sufficient guarantee that business entrusted to the new organization will receive the same prompt attention.

Having a very extensive correspondence with Banks and Bankers throughout the country, we believe we can offer unusual facilities to those who do business with us.

The business will be conducted by the same officers and Directors.

The Daily Commercial

No Night There.

There is no night in heaven:
In that blest world above
Work never can bring weariness,
For work itself is love.
There is no night in heaven:
Yet nightly round the bed
Of every Christian wanderer
Faith bears an angel tread.

There is no grief in heaven:
For life is one glad day,
And tears are of those former things
Which all have passed away.
There is no grief in heaven:
Yet angels from on high
On golden pinions earthward glide,
The Christian's tears to dry.

There is no sin in heaven:
Behold the blessed throng:
All holy is their spotless robe,
All holy is their song.
There is no sin in heaven:
Here who from sin is free?
Yet angels aid us in our strife
For Christ's true liberty.

There is no death in heaven:
For they who gain that shore
Have won their immortality,
And they can die no more.
There is no death in heaven:
But when the Christian dies,
The angels wait his parted soul,
And waft it to the skies.

PHISIOGNOMY OF CLASSES.

Effects of External Influences.

At the late anniversary of the Kings county Medical Society, Dr. H. L. Bartlett read an address on "Physical Education," which we find reported in the papers and much praised. That it was an interesting discourse the following extracts will prove; but it is a pity that a writer who has the good taste to borrow so largely from one of our publications should not possess sufficient sense of justice to give its author credit for the ideas thus appropriated:

"You are all familiar with the fact that rural populations are not so beautiful, as a rule, as those living in a city. I am speaking of the refined portions of both. Your country cousins may be more virtuous, for they are less tempted to vice; but they are certainly less beautiful—as they are deprived of those social and intellectual enjoyments which, in the city and town, make up so large a part of the amusement of the young. So are they wanting in those graces of manner and delicacy of feature which constitute the ideal of beauty. This is seen more distinctly in countries where there are castes or privileged classes.

"The Russian or English noblemen are quite different beings, in form and feature, from the serf or peasant. The South Carolina planter would hardly be recognized as belonging to the same race with the 'white trash' of that region. But let us descend a little more into particulars. You will bear in mind that I am endeavoring to prove that social causes are capable of changing not only the general shape of the head and form of the body, but the very expression of the face and intonation of the voice.

"The forms of religious worship also modify the physical peculiarities of a people. In speaking of climate, I said the temperament of a race would influence much its forms of worship. The converse of this is equally true. Those systems of religious worship which call to their aid the highest efforts of art must elevate the emotional part of our natures, and develop us in that direction, while the more rational system of religion would strengthen the intellect rather than the heart. The same may be said of art itself. No one can gaze upon a canvass illuminated by all the skill of the limner's art, or a block of marble, molded and almost made to breathe, under the sculptor's hand, without having his soul kindled with emotions, and his feelings irradiated to correspond with those feelings! Says a late writer: 'The permanent effect produced upon one's face and figure by our single visit to a picture gallery, is doubtless too small to be readily appreciable, but let the visit be repeated daily for a few months, or, what is better, let the subject of the experiment be surrounded by beautiful works of art, and habituated to their contemplation, and their effect will be marked and evident.' There is no doubt that like produces like oftener than we think. If a parent or a teacher have a peculiarity in word or gesture, the child is sure to copy it.

"The fact is so well attested, that it has become a truism, that a man and his wife grow to look like each other! The Greeks understood the influence external objects had upon the form and features, and filled their houses and temples with the most beautiful works of art, that their children constantly beholding, might become like them. Music, too, has the power, and perhaps in a more marked degree, of moulding the features. You can not doubt this if you have ever watched the effect of some grand symphony upon the faces of a large audience. You have seen the ever-varying expression of the countenance to correspond with the sentiment of the piece—of joy, of hope, or sorrow. Nor can you doubt that the frequent repetition of these expressions can fail to enlarge the muscles used in making them, and thus leave their permanent trace upon the features, any more than you can deny that the constant use of the blacksmith's arm enlarges and strengthens."

Remarkable Effects of Vapor Baths—A New Cure for Hydrophobia.

Dr. Buisson, of Paris, was lately called in to treat a woman who had been seized with hydrophobia, and in whom the disease had reached its final crisis. Having bled the patient, he wiped his hands with a cloth moistened by the saliva of the dying person. On the forefinger of the left hand he had a trifling wound with the skin broken. He at once perceived his imprudence, but trusting to the method of cure lately discovered by him, he was satisfied with washing in water. "Thinking," says M. Buisson, "that the malady would not declare itself before the fortieth day, and having many patients to visit, I put off taking my remedy of vapor baths from one day to another. On the ninth day, being in my closet, I felt all at once a pain in my throat, and one yet more keen in my eyes; my body felt so light that I thought if I jumped I could rise to a prodigious height, or that if I threw myself from the window I should be able to float in the air; the hairs of my head were so sensitive that it seemed to me as if without seeing them I could have counted them; saliva rose continually in my mouth; contact with the external air caused me frightful pain, and I shunned looking at anything bright; I had an incessant longing to run after and bite, not men, but animals and even objects about me. I drank with difficulty, and may mention that the sight of water tried me more than the pain in my throat; I believe that by shutting the eyes every one with hydrophobia may always drink. An attack came on every five minutes, and I observed that the pain began in the forefingers and extended along the nerves of the shoulder. Thinking that my system was only preservative, not curative, in its nature, I took a vapor bath, with the intention, not of healing, but of suffocating myself. When the bath was at a heat of 52° centigrade, all the symptoms disappeared as if by enchantment, and I have felt none since. I have treated more than eighty persons who have been bitten by animals in a state of madness, and all have been saved by this method." When a person has been bitten by a mad dog, he should be made to take seven of the so-called Russian vapor baths, from 57 deg. to 63 deg. centigrade ...t, one every day, by way of preventive. In case of the malady having distinctly shown itself, the vapor bath should be heated rapidly to ... deg. The patient should strictly confine himself to his room until he is quite well. Dr. Buisson mentions some other curious facts. A man in America was bitten by a rattlesnake, about sixteen miles from home. Wishing to die in the bosom of his family, he ran home, went to bed, perspired plentifully, and the wound healed like any simple sore. The bite of the tarantula is cured by dancing, the virus being dissipated by perspiration. If an infant who has been vaccinated is made to take a vapor bath, the vaccination is of no effect.—L'International.

HARD TIMES IN CANADA.—The Canadian papers continue to complain of the declining prosperity of that country. Business is at a stand-still, money extremely scarce and high, and farmers and real estate holders are selling out and leaving in droves. The Courier de St. Hyacinthe, published in the eastern section of Upper Canada, remarks: "At Acton and Roxton a large number of houses are closed; families emigrate by ten or a dozen at a time. Nearly the same thing may be said of Stukely, Ely and Waterloo. According to the statements of respectable parties such desertion was never seen in those townships. It is estimated that one-third of the populations of these localities is going to the United States. The truth is, Canada is no longer what it was before the commencement of the war now terminated. The market for the products of the British provinces is, in a large measure, closed up, and business in all branches is exceedingly depressed compared with former years. The Canadian people have become less hopeful in regard to the project of confederation, the inter-colonial railway, colonization of the Hudson Bay territory, and other schemes designed to give a new impetus to the general prosperity. Meanwhile, the United States have settled their difficulties, and look more inviting than ever before."

FREDERICK THE GREAT, AND HIS SOLDIERS.—Marching in a very hot day, an old grenadier dropped down, exhausted. Restoratives were administered by a surgeon, and a man was detailed to carry the old soldier's load. But being still weak, he asked to lie down for a few minutes, a young ensign, coming along, in rough language ordered him to move forward. The king heard it, and with a sharp reproof of the officer, said: "My men shall be treated with humanity." He then ordered the old soldier to be set on a horse and the young officer to be put out of the regiment.

On another occasion, a cannon stuck fast in the road, and while the men were doing their best to get it out, an officer struck one of the men. Frederick, in passing, saw the act and ordered the officer and some of his own attendants to dismount and give assistance to the army men. The next morning, sending for the officer, he said to him: "My army is composed of men. You are a monster. You are cashiered. Go to the devil."

OUTSIDE DUTIES.—Every good and conscientious teacher will admit that his duty towards the children of his class, is not ended when the school is closed. It is not enough for him to attend regularly on Sunday and go through the appointed lessons with his children, however faithful and diligent he may be in the preparation. If we are to effect permanent good, and have the lessons which we teach imprinted on their hearts, and practiced in their lives, we must follow our children to their homes with kindly care. We must labor earnestly in order that the good results of our teaching may not be hindered, and its lessons wholly obliterated by the example and the influence which surround our scholars during the week, and which are often such as to render them unable to retain, as well as unfitted to receive the teachings of the Sunday. We have not done enough for those who are entrusted to our care, unless we are causing our influence to gather around them, and can subject them at all times to control.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

FOR MORE THAN TWENTY YEARS Matthews' VENETIAN HAIR DYE has stood the test of trial, and is constantly increasing in public favor.

The VENETIAN HAIR DYE is the best and cheapest made. Its price is only 75 cents, and each bottle contains double the quantity of dye in those usually sold for $1.

THIS HAIR DYE is manufactured by a peculiar process, which renders it infinitely superior to any dye in the market. Being complete in one bottle, no preparation is required, which greatly simplifies the application.

IN USING THIS DYE, you avoid that RUSTY, DEAD appearance by which dyed hair and whiskers are so readily recognized, when an inferior article has been used, as it produces a perfectly natural color of any shade that is desired, from a rich brown to a jetty, lustrous black, that will not smut, crock or stain the clothing. Invest 75 cents, and you will be convinced. Sold by all Druggists and Fancy Goods Dealers. A. I. MATTHEWS, Manufacturer.

VALUABLE IRON PROPERTY FOR SALE.

TENNESSEE ROLLING WORKS.

We will offer for sale on the 2d DAY OF OCTOBER, 1865, on the premises, the valuable Iron Property known as the

Tennessee Rolling Works,

with 6440 acres of Land, about 600 acres good Farming Land cleared and under fence, situated on the Cumberland River, fifty miles above the mouth, in Lyon county, Kentucky, embracing a large and complete Rolling Mill, a Forge with twenty Nobbling Fires, a Machine Shop containing Lathes, Boring and Planing Machines, with a Boiler and Engine to run separate from Mill, with a Grist Mill attached, a large Warehouse, Dry Goods Store, Brick Office, and a large number of Dwellings for workmen. Also about Forty Thousand Bushels of Stone Coal, and Sixty Thousand Bushels of Charcoal.

The above Iron Works have been in successful operation for a number of years, and the reputation of the Iron fully established, with a capacity for making Five or Six Thousand Tons of superior Charcoal Iron yearly—unsurpassed by any manufactory in the United States. The facilities for obtaining Pig Iron are superior to any establishment in the West, there being three Charcoal Furnaces within one to three miles of the Mill, capable of producing Seven or Eight Thousand Tons of Pig Iron yearly.

The facilities for obtaining cheap supplies of Corn, Pork and other articles, are unsurpassed.

Shipments of Iron can be made to the mouth of Cumberland River all seasons of the year.

TERMS OF SALE.

The Rolling Mill, Forge and Lands thereto attached, Tools, embracing Mill, Forge and Blacksmith Tools, and Weighing Scales, are to be sold on a credit of one, two and three and four years from date, with approved security, and lien retained until the purchase money is paid.

It is understood that the purchaser of the mill, lands and fixtures is to take the wrought iron and cast iron scraps, stone coal, charcoal, farming tools, carpenter tools, corn, hay, mules, cattle, hogs, iron safe and fixtures in office, wagons, carts, medicines, etc., and pay cash at a fair valuation, two disinterested men to fix said valuation; in case they do not agree, to call in a third man.

The object of the sale is to close up said business agreeably to the articles of co-partnership.

Capitalists wishing to invest in a profitable iron property will do well to examine the same, when competent men will be ready at all times to show the property, and give particulars until day of sale.

FOR SALE OR RENT.

A RARE CHANCE FOR INVESTMENT—For sale, that beautiful Homestead, of the late Colonel MORGAN ROBERTSON, of Pittsburgh, containing 187 acres, a large portion rich river bottom, with about 30 acres containing the best Youghiogheny Coal, and some 50 acres of hill land heavily timbered, and the balance under cultivation. The improvements in part consist of a good DOUBLE BRICK HOUSE, a large Barn and Out-Houses, a never-failing Well, an Orchard of the best varieties of Fruit Trees, now in bearing: also, two Tenant Houses, &c. This Farm lies upon the bank of the Monongahela River, fourteen miles from Pittsburgh, and offers peculiar facilities for the Mining, loading and shipping of Coal, for building all kinds of Water Craft, for the most convenient and profitable disposition of the Timber and other products of the land. The whole is offered for sale on most advantageous terms.
For particulars appy to
JOSEPH DILWORTH, Esq.,
Of Dilworth, Porter & Co., or
THOS. J. KEENAN, Esq.,
my19tf Attorney at Law, Pittsburgh.

BEAUTIFUL SUBURBAN LOTS FOR SALE.—A portion of the estates of JOHN HERRON, Esq., deceased, adjoining Fort Herron, has been laid out in lots of various sizes, from one-fourth to one and a half acres each, with wide streets (40 feet) and is now ready for sale. This property is in one of the most eligible locations around the city. The air being pure, free from the smoke and soot arising from the vast consumption of coal in the city, renders the location naturally healthy, and having extended views of the river and surrounding country, makes the property more desirable. Being but 2 miles from the Court House, (via Wylie street) having a good road, it can be reached in a pleasant walk of twenty-five or thirty minutes, or a drive of fifteen minutes. There is also on the property a Passenger Car Station, making it convenient and pleasant to transact business in the city. Cars passing to and from the city throughout the day. Lots will be sold singly or in numbers. The plan of lots and prices can be seen at the office of
W. C. AUGHINBAUGH,
ju5-tf Attorney, NO. 87 Diamond st., Pittsburgh.

VALUABLE MANUFACTURING PROPERTY FOR SALE.—A manufacturing property situate in Pitt Township, adjoining the city line, opposite the Copper Works, Ninth Ward, having a river front of 240 feet by 240 feet on Taylor street, on which there is a substantial three story brick building, 40 by 100 feet, Engine House and sheds, all in good condition. This is one of the best locations on the river for manufacturing purposes, and will be disposed of upon very liberal terms. Apply at the Real Estate and Insurance office of
G. S. BATES,
my18 Butler st., near Allen, Lawrenceville.

FOR SALE
Two three-story and one two-story Brick Dwellings Nos. 1 and 3 Pennsylvania Avenue, within one square of the Court House; each twenty-four feet front and substantially built in the best style, with all the modern improvements and conveniences, as balconies, gas, hot and cold water, &c., &c. Enquire of

Also, attached to the drum a 4 foot cog-wheel, fire grating, heater with worm safety valve, blower, frame bed for engine and wheel, all in excellent condition. Inquire at 113 Third street. je6-tf

A NEAT COUNTRY SEAT FOR SALE, containing 10 acres, neatly enclosed with board fence, all under cultivation, from 6 to 7 acres planted in Fruit of the very best selections. Also a great variety of small Fruit, Shade and Ornamental Trees. The place is watered by two never failing Springs; situated 4 miles from the city, 1½ miles from Laughlin's Station, opposite to the late Judge Forward's place. The buildings are a neat 2 story dwelling, stable and carriage house, etc. Possession can be given at once. Apply to
B. McLAIN & CO.,

PUBLIC SALE OF STOCK.—Notice to Stockholders of Allegheny and Butler Plank Road Company, and others interested:
WHEREAS, In pursuance of acts of Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, approved April 27th, 1852, and March 22d, 1860, the entire stock of the Allegheny and Butler Plank Road Company was pledged and hypothecated for the payment of certain certificates of loan issued by authority of said acts of Assembly, which certificates fell due on the first day of May last, and yet remain unpaid.
Now this is to notify all persons that the entire stock of the said Allegheny and Butler Plank Road Company, except such as may be relieved by payment of its proper proportion of said loan, on or before said day, will be exposed to sale by public outcry at the house of Frederick Garrow, in Bakerstown, Allegheny county, Pennsylvania, on SATURDAY, 8TH DAY OF JULY NEXT,
at eleven o'clock, A. M., of said day. The stock will be offered in lots to suit bidders, and purchasers will be entitled to certificates of transfer, vesting in them the same rights and franchises as were vested in the holders of such stock immediately before such sale.
Any stockholder may relieve his stock from sale by paying to James Bredin, Treasurer, before the day of sale, one dollar and thirty cents on each share of stock owned. The capital stock of the company is 3,200 shares of $25 each. The debt is $4,150, which includes all the liabilities of the company.

STRENGTH TO THE WEAK!
YOUTH TO THE AGED!!
BIOKRENE
OR LIFE REJUVENATOR.
This preparation is unequaled as a Rejuvenator and Restorer of wasted or inert functions.
The aged should be certain to make the Biokrene a household god, inasmuch as it will render them youthful in feeling and in strength, and enable them to live over again the days of their pristine joy. It not only exhilarates but strengthens, and is really an invaluable blessing, especially to those who have been reduced to a condition of servility, self abuse, misfortune, or ordinary sickness. No matter what the cause of the impotency of any human organ, this superb preparation will remove the effect at once and forever.
BIOKRENE
Cures Impotency, General Debility, Nervous Incapacity, Dyspepsia, Depression, Loss of Appetite, Low Spirits, Weakness of the Organs of Generation, Imbecility, Mental Indolence, Emaci... Ennui. It has a most delightful, desirable and novel effect upon the nervous system; and all who are in any way prostrated by nervous disabilities are earnestly advised to seek a cure in this most excellent and unequalled preparation.
Persons who, by imprudence, have lost their NATURAL VIGOR, will find a speedy and permanent cure in the
BIOKRENE
The feeble, the languid, the dispairing, the old should give this valuable discovery a trial. It will be found totally different from all other articles for the same purpose.
TO FEMALES.—This preparation is invaluable in nervous weakness of all kinds, as it will restore the wasted strength with wonderful permanence.
It is also a grand tonic, and will give relief in Dyspepsia with the first dose. A brief persistence in its use will renovate the stomach to a degree of perfect health and banish Dyspepsia forever.

The Daily Commercial

CITY MATTERS.

RE-ELECTED.—The Board of Directors of the South Pittsburgh Public Schools, held a meeting on Friday evening, and re-elected all the teachers to serve for the ensuing School year.

PERSONAL.—Captain John R. Paxton, of Company G, 146th Regiment Pennsylvania Volunteers, has returned to the city, looking remarkably well after three years' hard fighting with the rebels.

LEFT FOR GETTYSBURG.—A number of members of the City Councils left for Gettysburg yesterday afternoon, to participate in the ceremony of laying the corner-stone of the proposed soldiers' monument.

DEATH OF SOLDIERS.—Samuel Myers, of Company A, 61st Pennsylvania regiment, died at the Soldiers' Home, in this city, on Saturday evening. James P. Graham, of Co. I, Seventh Michigan cavalry, died at the same place yesterday morning.

NATIONAL SALUTE.—The members of Knap's Battery intend firing a salute of 100 guns on the morning of the Fourth, from Seminary Hill, in Allegheny. The necessary ammunition will be furnished by the Commandant of the Allegheny Arsenal.

TROOPS PASSING THROUGH.—The 25th Michigan passed through the city on Saturday night on their way to Detroit. The 23d Wisconsin arrived yesterday morning. Both regiments were entertained by the Subsistence Committee while in the city.

LARCENY OF A COW.—Jacob Reynolds and Thomas Whalen, residents of South Pittsburgh, were arrested on Saturday, by Officers Wilmot and Thornburg, on suspicion of stealing a fine Durham cow. They gave bail for a further hearing on Saturday next.

CAPT. HAZLEP ARRESTED.—Mayor Lowry received a telegraphic dispatch yesterday from St. Louis, announcing that Captain Hazlep, of the steamer Empire City, had been arrested in that city on Saturday. He will arrive here to-day at noon, in charge of a St. Louis police officer.

AMICABLY ARRANGED.—The difficulty between Mr. Neur, of Harrisburg, and Mr. Meisky, of Kentucky, in regard to the daughter of the former, the particulars of which had been already published, was settled on Saturday, and the suit against Melsky withdrawn. The terms of the "compromise" were not made public.

FOURTH OF JULY DINNER.—Let every one remember that City Hall will be open to-day from nine A. M. to two P. M., to receive contributions for the dinner to our soldiers. No one should fail to send a contribution of cash or eatables. Persons sending donations are requested to send them as early in the day as possible.

CORONER'S INQUEST.—On Saturday morning the body of an unknown man was found drowned at the landing of the Manchester and Saw Mill Run Ferry. He appeared to be about forty years of age, of medium hight, brown hair, no beard, and wore a blue sack coat and gray cassimere pantaloons. Alderman Donaldson held an inquest on the body, and a verdict of found drowned was rendered.

THE FOURTH AT M'KEESPORT.—The citizens of M'Keesport will to-morrow give a dinner to the returned soldiers, and to soldiers' wives and widows, at Evans' Woods. Addresses will be delivered by Rev. James Prestley, John H. Bailey and others. A brass band will be in attendance, and the patriotic citizens of the borough will use every means within their power to make the occasion pleasant and agreeable.

FUNERAL OF A SOLDIER.—The funeral of John McGimpery, formerly a member of the 155th Pennsylvania regiment, who died in Philadelphia, from a disease contracted in the service, took place yesterday afternoon, from his late residence in the Sixth ward. Two companies of the 102d regiment acted as the escort.

PORTRAIT OF WASHINGTON.—Mr. R. B. Dungan, the agent for Pittsburgh, has laid upon our table an allegorical portrait of Washington, originally drawn with a steel pen by R. M. Swander, and engraved subsequently by P. S. Duval & Son, Philadelphia. The portrait which is dedicated to the Christian Commission of the United States, is created by shading in writing the declaration of independence, and is very artistically executed. Surrounding the portrait are fac similes of the signatures of the signers of the declaration. Mr. Dungan will offer these portraits for sale to our citizens to-day.

OUTRAGEOUS ASSAULT.—Last evening about dark, a number of rowdies committed an outrageous assault upon two colored men named Levi Johnston and S. Craig at the railroad depot on Liberty street, knocking them down with slung shots, kicking them in the head and body, and would have killed them, had it not been for the arrival of the police. The colored men were lifted up and conveyed to the Mayor's office, where their wounds were dressed by Dr. Rogers, after which they were taken to their residences in Birmingham. The names of the parties committing the assault are unknown.

NEW CASTLE.—On a flying visit to New Castle a few days since, our reporter was struck with the improvements going on in that beautiful town. The old "Leslie House" has changed hands; and he was agreeably surprised in learning the fact, after sitting at their bountiful board, that Messrs. Reiber & Stoughton, the new proprietors, know how to keep a hotel. The citizens feel proud of the new arrangement, and say they are now able in their two large hotels, the "Leslie" and the "Cochran," to comfortably accommodate almost any number of visitors. The town, with its beautiful surroundings, rolling mills, factories, etc., will amply repay visitors who wish to escape for a few days from the smoky atmosphere of Pittsburgh.

"WILL BE BACK ON TUESDAY NIGHT."—At the Custom House there is an office away up four flights of stairs—a place much in demand now by widows, orphans, maimed soldiers, &c.—by name a Pension Agency. After climbing up the stone ladder Saturday morning, passing in the ascent a number of disappointed persons, we at length reached a room just under the roof. The door was closed and posted on it was a notice with the remarkable words at the head of this notice. Why a pension agency, of all other offices, should be located fifty feet in the air, thereby obliging persons, the least able, to undergo such labor, as is required to get up to it, we cannot conceive; but it is as cool as could be on arriving at the top to be greeted as above. Who is responsible?

Presentations to Teachers.

Professor George N. Munro, Principal of the South Pittsburgh Public Schools, was, on Friday last, presented with an elegant silver cake-basket, by the pupils of the Grammer Department of the school. The presentation address was made by Miss Mary Walker, and the gift was received by the Professor in a few neat and appropriate remarks. Miss Clara Levake, a former pupil of the school, also presented the Professor with a splendid gold pen and ink-stand. These marks of appreciation are alike creditable to the donors and recipient.

Mr. J. B. D. Meeds, after a connection of twenty-five years with the Second Ward Public Schools, has dissolved his relations with them, for the purpose of engaging in other business. Previous to his departure, he was presented with numerous and valuable gifts by every department of the school.

Arrival of Pittsburgh Regiments—Public Reception Accorded Them.

On Saturday afternoon about three o'clock, the Sixty first Pennsylvania regiment, under command of Col. Robert L. Orr, arrived in this city, and was met at the depot by an immense crowd of citizens, who welcomed them with cheers. The regiment was formed and marched down to City Hall. After partaking of dinner, Mayor Lowry, in the name of the corporation, welcomed them to the city. Gen. J. K. Moorhead was then introduced, and delivered an earnest and patriotic address, which was loudly applauded. Appropriate remark were also make by Col. Thos. M. Bayne and Major A. M. Brown. Col. Orr than announced that the members of the regiment residing in the city, could retire to their homes, while quarters had been secured at the Girard House for the country companies. He also stated that the regiment would leave for Camp Reynolds, on Sunday, where it would be paid off and mustered out of the service.

The 61st regiment was organized in July, 1861, by the gallant Colonel Oliver H. Rippey, who was killed at the battle of Fair Oaks. It has taken part in nearly all the battles fought by the Army of the Potomac. Some months ago, three companies of one year men, which were recruited in Allegheny City, by Captains Tyler, Wright and Scriba, were assigned to this regiment. They have also been discharged, and arrived with the regiment on Saturday.

The 102d regiment ("Old 13th") under command of Col. James Patchell, arrived at the Outer Depot, in the Ninth Ward, yesterday morning about half-past nine o'clock, where they were met by the Committee of Reception and about 200 former members of the regiment. The 61st regiment, which arrived on Saturday, was also largely represented. After the regiment had been formed, the former members, and the detachment from the 61st, took the right and escorted them to the City Hall, where a sumptuous breakfast had been prepared. After partaking of the refreshments provided, Mayor Lowry ascended the stage and spoke as follows:

Soldier's of 102d, "Old Thirteenth."—As the Chief Magistrate of this great city, I welcome you back again to our midst. On behalf of the loyal people out from amongst whom you went, I bid you a most cordial, hearty and sincere welcome.

The Committee, in whose hands your reception was placed, has concluded that arriving as you have, upon the Sabbath day, it would be more in accordance with your own views, as I know it would be with the views of our citizens generally, that your formal reception should be postponed until to-morrow, that our people might share in according to you, that general and generous welcome, which your patriotic and heroic services so eminently deserve. It is due to you, it is due to our citizens, that this opportunity should be afforded. You will therefore dispose of yourselves as your inclination may suggest until such time to-morrow as your commanding officer may indicate, when a reception worthy of your gallant and arduous services, will be extended to you.

Your name belongs to us, and your reputation is dear and honored in the estimation of every loyal heart that loves our country and the dear old flag. We wish to give you such a welcome as will be honorable to you, to ourselves, and the cause of truth and right, and humanity, that we have all in our respective spheres, been endeavoring to serve.

You will, therefore, disperse to your homes and friends, that are open and anxious to receive you, and with a sincere spirit of thankfulness to the Great Ruler of events, who has returned you to us again, we will spend this holy Sabbath in reflecting upon the great things his Almighty arm has done in our behalf as a nation.

At the conclusion of the Mayor's remarks Col. Patchell tendered the thanks of the regiment to the citizens of Pittsburg for the generous reception which had been accorded it, and concluded by announcing to the members that they should hold themselves in readiness for a parade to-day. The regiment was then dismissed, and the companies from a distance were provided with accommodations at Wilkins Hall, and the Good Intent and Neptune Engine Houses.

The 102d was organized in this city in August, 1861, by Col. (now Brigadier General) Thomas A. Rowley, and was composed of twelve companies, and was originally [illegible] aggregate eleven hundred men. All numbering in the [illegible] (Company H, recruited in [illegible] the companies except one, composed of residents of this Butler county,) were composed [illegible] Pittsburgh regiment. county, and it was emphatically a [illegible] re-enlisted. During the summer of 1864, the regiment [illegible] recruits, among and received a large number of new recruits, had been them two companies of drafted men, who [illegible] doing guard duty at Camp Reynolds for some months. The regiment now [illegible] hundred men, less than one hundred [illegible] members of the [illegible] of whom are original men [illegible] A public demonstration will be given to-day, for which great preparations are being made.

Public Amusements.

THEATRE.—To-night, the popular local drama, entitled "The Poor of New York," with its splendid scenery and startling mechanical effects, will be presented. Mr. Henderson will appear in his favorite character of "Badger."

MASONIC HALL.—The Martinetti Troupe of Pantomimists will give three performances at Masonic Hall to-morrow.

COMING.—The famous Duprez & Green's Minstrel Troupe will commence a brief engagement in this city next week. The popular avant courier of the troupe, Mr. Sam. Pond, has arrived in the city, to make the preliminary arrangements. The minstrels will have a grand reception.

Another Case of Seduction—The Victim Attempts to Destroy Herself.

During the latter part of last week, an interesting and respectable looking young woman, apparently aged about twenty-two years, arrived in this city, and took rooms at the Scott House, where she registered herself as Miss Kate Mintea, of Lynchburg, Virginia. Upon her arrival at the hotel she stated that the object of her visit was to meet a young man, a resident of this city, to whom she was engaged to be married, and who had promised to meet her here. She also said that her trunk, which contained her money and clothing, had been mislaid on the cars, and exhibited the check in confirmation of her statement. On Saturday morning she appeared much depressed in spirit in consequence of the non-appearance of her lover and the detention of her trunk. About noon She visited a drug store and purchased an ounce of laudnum, and upon her return to the hotel entered her bedroom and swallowed the poison. She then went into an adjoining room and informed a lady occupant that she had taken poison, requesting her to send for a minister. The lady immediately communicated the fact to the proprietor of the hotel, who immediately summoned Dr. Wm. M. Kearn, of No. 253 Penn street, when the usual antidotes were successfully administered and in a short time she was pronounced to be out of danger.

Miss Mintea declines giving the name of her lover, but states that she met him at the residence of her parents, at Lynchburg. She is undoubtedly the victim of some villan, who, in order to cover his guilt, has enticed her from her home. She is now in a destitute condition, having expended her last quarter for the poison with which she hoped to end her miserable existence.

DESERVED COMPLIMENT.—On Saturday night, after Mr. F. Chippendale had retired from the Theatre, he was closely watched by a number of gentlemen on his way to the Mansion House, and when he had reached his room he was suddenly overwhelmed by the party who had dogged him thither, and by them presented with an ebony cane with a gold head bearing this inscription: "To Mr. F. Chippendale from a few of his Pittsburgh friends, July 1st, 1865." The party having thus disclosed their friendly designs, spent a pleasant hour with the "Old Man," of the Theatre, in the interchange of sentiment both witty, humorous and sober. Mr. Chippendale acknowledged the compliment in a brief and happy speech in which he wished all good things for Pittsburgh, hoping that he and his friends might meet again in the bonds of good fellowship. The occasion was very happy, and the presentation was well deserved.

SATURDAY, July 1, P. M.

The offerings at the Board this forenoon were more numerous than any previous day during the week, but the bids were as usual very low. No sales were effected, and the disposition with holders of stocks at good standing is not to sacrifice on the present market. They hold for an advance, which they argue must come on the revival of trade.

—The prevailing opinion among the buyers of stocks in New York is that after the vacation of the Fourth there is to be a more active and better sustained market than through the closing weeks of the month of June. This feeling was assisted by the traffic reports of the week from some of the Western roads, and of the rapidly increasing coal tonnage of the Reading road, and also by the marked and pressing abundance of money on Wall-street, at low rates of interest.

—Some very heavy failures among the Chicago produce dealers have been reported during the week. The Republican says: "Speculation recently has been so rampant among a few of the members of the Board of Trade, who have only comparatively small means that we should not be surprised to hear of other failures among this class of operators. Of one thing we can safely assure our readers, and that is, it is not advisable to entrust produce to any firm who advertise that they are doing a strictly commission business when the fact is well known here that they are almost daily taking their chances in the markets on 'Change. We approve of the procedure of many business men, who refuse to take checks unless they are certified, and we hope this will become the rule without any exception. Certified checks or actual delivery of property in all cases will remedy a good many evils, and prevent a good many losses."

While many real oil companies are industriously engaged in efforts to bring their products into the market, many more which are unreal are in the last stages of misery. The sudden excitement which roused them to an activity in the race for profit has subsided, the unnatural glow has faded, and they lay supine and listless, apparently in the last stages of dissolution. The reaction is a protest against the schemes or dishonest persons, who seized upon the wonderful developments of petroleum, to organize gambling speculations, and to take advantage of the rash, incautious, and the credulous. There is reason to believe that some companies which were once high in favor have lost all that was invested. This has become apparent to many stockholders, but there are other concerns which still keep up a show of vitality and are hugging the present, in hopes that it will carry them safely into the future—that unpleasant inquiries will be postponed, that impatient stockholders will be satisfied with dividends declared out of their capital, and may be wheedled into the belief that they have "struck oil," when they have only stricken themselves. Whilst, therefore, the entire petroleum interest suffers, in consequence of the overdoing of the business by stock gamblers, it is yet a matter of truth that there are honestly-conducted companies which possess valuable lands, and which are working away quietly, in full belief that they will meet with their reward. And how shall the sheep of petroleum be separated from the goats? How shall the really valuable companies vindicate their claims against the worthless? This is a matter which ought to be thought about. The good and the bad suffer alike at the the present time, and honest organizations are confounded in censure with the dishonest. How shall the wheat be sifted from the chaff? This is really a great question to all concerned and they should take speedy means to answer it.—Phila. Led.

PITTSBURGH OIL TRADE.

OFFICE OF THE DAILY COMMERCIAL,
PITTSBURGH, Monday, July 3, 1865.

The following are the receipts of oil for the past week per Allegheny River and the Allegheny Valley Railroad, also from the opening of navigation to July 1st, inclusive.

	A. River.	A. V. R. R.	Total
Monday, June 26	2,722	677	3,399
Tuesday, June 27	750	831	1,581
Wednesday, June 28	3,445	627	4,072
Thursday, June 29	2,166	1358	3,524
Friday, June 30	1,163	964	2,127
Saturday, July 1	845	723	1,568
	11,091	5,180	16,271
Since open'g of nav	150,323	57,468	207,791

The above table will furnish the reader with the receipts by river and rail for the week ending on Saturday, also from the opening of navigation. The entire receipts amount to 224,062 barrels, of which the largest portion, at least two-thirds, was received by the Allegheny river. In the list above we have only given the lists of receipts that have arrived within the city limits; thousands, yea tens of thousands of barrels, have been landed at the numerous refineries located outside the city limits, of which we have no account. Add to the above the amount exported from the oil regions by the various railroads and it would probably swell the aggregate to at least one hundred thousand barrels more. You may talk about your Virginia and other oil wells, but, so far, nothing has been heard of that can begin to compare with the oil lands of the "Keystone State." The week's operations were large, both in crude and refined. So far as relates to prices we have no change to notice. The rates that were current on Monday would answer for Saturday. For some weeks past bonded refined oil was the fancy, whilst free was neglected and without purchasers. On Tuesday matters took a change, and free oil was wanted, whilst bonded was neglected. The week's sales of refined oil was large, principally for future delivery. The supply on hand is not large. Below will be found the sales that came under our notice. On the Allegheny landing business was dull. Saturday generally terminates in that way. The rates of freight to Oil City is steep, particularly on empty barrels, which are plenty. The receipts of crude since our last reach 1,400 bbls. The sales fall below that amount. The rates were 21@21½c, packages returned; 25@26½c, packages included.

REFINED OILS.—As usual on Saturday, the sales were not large. Buyers were not disposed to purchase to any extent, preferring to wait until the beginning of the week. Sales of 105 bbls bonded, f. o. b., at 44c per gallon; sales of 2,000 bbls bonded, Standard, delivered in Philadelphia at 53c; sales of 500 bbls bonded, Hutchison's brand, delivered in Philadelphia, sellers' option, at 53c; 250 bbls do, free, the terms were withheld; 500 bbls bonded, delivered in Philadelphia from the 15th to the 30th of July, at 55c. This is the highest figure yet obtained.

CRUDE OIL.—The market on Saturday was quiet. Dealers manifested no disposition to operate so near the end of the week. Sales of 115 bbls at 21½c, packages returned; sales of 500 bbls do, at 21c, same conditions; sales of 200 bbls at 26c, packages included. The receipts by the river are on the increase.

TAR.—We have nothing new to note in regard to this article; small sales are making daily, at $3 25@3 50 ₩ bbl.

NAPTHA.—Remains dull; large sales could not be effected at the present asking rates.

Oil City Oil Trade.

June 29.—The oil trade in this city still continues inactive, but there are many indications of a revival in the business at no distant day. Speculation in territory, particularly on Pithole, is brisk, and leases are being disposed of at high rates, and with great rapidity. Oil is selling at Pithole at $3 50, at Cherry Run at $5 50, and at this place for $6 00, with an upward tendency.

Quite an amount of oil was shipped at this point during the past week, one firm alone (Fisher Brothers) shipped 4,000 barrels.—Monitor.

PITTSBURGH GENERAL MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE DAILY COMMERCIAL,
PITTSBURGH, Monday, July 3, 1865.

Business remains dull in all the various avenues of trade. The holidays are so near that business has been unusually light. The first of July being a general settling-up time, all other matters are a secondary consideration. The weather continues pleasant for the season—a little warm, with pleasant showers that pay us an occasional visit; of course they are always welcome, particularly about this season. The receipts of produce continue light; there is, however, sufficient on hand for present purposes. Our rivers are falling steadily, and will soon reach low-water mark. The light-draught boats have things pretty much their own way. Freights were not plenty. The J. S. Hall came in from Parkersburg with a fair trip; she will return during the early part of the week. The Pilgrim has laid up; she will not return to Zanesville for the present. The Emma Graham will be found at the landing this morning; she will leave for Zanesville at 4 P. M. on Tuesday. The packet Kenton did not get off on Saturday; she will leave for Cairo and St. Louis this day, positively; passengers and shippers can rely on this. The Alex. Speer is announced for Cincinnati and Louisville this day; she is very light draught, and will go through without detention. Business on the river will be dull for the next two months. Below will be found the sales that came under our notice:

DRIED FRUIT.—The demand was limited, and so were the transactions. Buyers exhibit no disposition to operate to any extent at the present time. Apples can be purchased at pretty much any price, ranging from 5@7c ₩ lb, as per quality. Peaches were held at 20@25c, according to condition.

HAY.—The receipts were light, and transactions were limited. At the scales only 4 loads were disposed of, at prices ranging from $15@17. Baled was in good supply, with sales at $12@14 ₩ ton.

GRAIN.—We have to notice a dull market, the supply being in excess of the demand for all descriptions. This causes buyers to hold back for lower figures, hence we have but few sales to record. Oats was the leading article; sales were made from store at a decline of 2c ₩ bushel, viz: 500 bush at 58c; 400 do same figures; sales 500 bush at depot at 54@55c. Corn dull; buyers scarce; prices too uncertain to quote correctly. Rye—We note sales 250 bush at 75c, being the first sale recorded for some time. Wheat dull; we omit figures, there being no demand.

FLOUR.—Dull, the only demand being local, and the principal inquiry being for the better brands. The supply in the market is larger than the demand. The receipts eave fallen off. The sales from store by the dray load were made at the following figures, viz: Extra Family 25 bbls St. Louis at $8 00; 75 bbls from spring wheat at $7 50; 60 bbls do from winter at $7 50@8 ₩ bbl.

CORN MEAL.—The market was not very active. Sales to sacks at $1 ₩ bushel.

EGGS.—The high prices that have prevailed for some days have increased the supplies materially and prices have declined. Sales 4 bbls at 21½c; 5 do at 25c; 12 bbls at 25c, and 5 bbls at 20@25c ₩ dozen.

CHEESE.—The market contains an ample supply at this time, with a fair amount of transactions. Among the sales we note the following:—25 bxs. W. R. at 16c; 50 lbs Goshen at 20@20½c; Hamburg at 17@18c.

BUTTER.—The receipts are increasing, with a fair demand. Among the sales were 14 pkgs. Roll at 17@20c ₩ lb.

POTATOES.—The demand was active under light receipts. Sales 150 bu. Peach-blows at $1 10. 175 sacks do. at $1 15 ₩ bu. The supply was not large.

SYRUPS.—Sales 6 bbls. B. & A. at $1 18.

BACON.—The market was not very active—dealers purchasing sparingly. As prices were unchanged we omit them in the present issue.

MARKETS BY TELEGRAPH.

New York Finance and Trade.

Special to Western Associated Press.

NEW YORK, July 1.

STOCKS.

At the Stock Exchange to-day Railroads were in speculative demand. Leading stocks a fraction above closing quotations of yesterday. The Bulls appeared disposed to continue their speculations for a rise, contrary to the supposition that they would buy up a large amount of stocks and retire for the heated term, relying on the scarcity of stocks for sustaining the prices in their absence. There was an advance in Erie, Reading and Northwestern shares, with an active business in the two first named stocks. Government stocks firmer, although business was light. State bonds were dull but steady, except Bank shares were dull, with slight offerings and but few bids. Railway mortgages quiet and steady.

GOLD

Has been very easy to-day. Many bears have delivered amounts falling due before Wednesday, without being obliged to hire cash gold. Cash gold is plenty, and is only worth ⅛@¼ per cent. over the national holiday. Money continues abundant and very easy. Monday will be almost a holiday in financial circles, and there will be but little if any business transacted. The Stock Boards, Gold Room and Petroleum Boards will all be closed.

PETROLEUM STOCKS

steady, with fair transactions: Fulton, $6 25; Buchanan farm, 88c; Webster, $2 50; Bergan, 45c; Consolidated, 75c; Excelsior, $3 00; Heydrick, $2 45; Oceanic, $1 95; Highgate, 60c; Heydrick, $1 20; McElhy, $2 20; First National, 80c; Germania, $47; Rynd farm, $1 80; Southard, $4 05; United States, $27 50; Cherry Run, 38c; Manhattan, 38c; Tack, 60c; Pithole Creek, $12 50.

PETROLEUM.

Crude is still being firm, at 33@35½c; refined, in bond, steady, at 52@54c; free dull, at 74@74c. Prices of provisions, vegetables, and fruit in the markets of Richmond, Va., are now 20 per cent below those of New York, Philadelphia and Baltimore.

New York Gold Market.

NEW YORK, July 1.—Gold is unexpectedly easy. It turns out that many of the sports have already covered their sales, and the demand for cash gold is consequently much less than was anticipated from the resolution of yesterday, requiring all contracts maturing before Wednesday next to be settled to-day. Gold can be borrowed at the rate of 1 1-6 per cent. per day for the next three days, but the borrowing transactions are quite limited. The price has ranged at 140.

New York Money and Stock Market.

NEW YORK, June 1.—Market quiet and easy, at 3@5 per cent on call loans. Sterling excited, at 109½@109¾ in gold for banker's bills. Gold less active and scarcely so firm; opening at 141; declining to 140½, and closing at 140½. Total expors to-day, $39,000. Government stocks a shade firmer.

New York Market.

NEW YORK, July 1.—Cotton heavy and drooping at 43@44 for middling. Flour opened quiet and closed dull and 5c lower at $5 70@5 75 for extra State; $5 85@6 50 for common to good. Whisky decidedly lower at $2 08@2 10. Wheat opened steady at $1 35 for winter red western; $1 42@1 44 for Amber Michigan. Rye quiet. Barley dull. Corn dull and 1c lower at 68@73 for unsound; 74@77 for good mixed western. Oats dull and drooping at 73@75 for western. Rice dull. Coffee dull. Sugar quiet; Cuba Musaovada 11@12½. Molasses dull. Hops quiet. Wool dull. Petroleum dull, heavy and nominal. THE RIVER.—Last evening at twilight there were five feet five inches water by the pier mark, having rose five inches during the past twenty-four hours.

THE first-class packet Kenton leaves this day for Cairo and St. Louis.

LOCK No. 3 on the Monongahela having been put in thorough repair, boats will meet with no detention.

THE fine light-draught passenger Steamer Alex. Speer is announced for Cincinnati and Louisville. To persons going that way a fine opportunity is presented.

HO, FOR ST. LOUIS.—Passengers and shippers will be pleased to learn that the splendid passenger steamer Kenton, Captain J. H. Dunlap, leaves for Cairo and St. Louis, on Friday. This boat is one of the best of her class, and stands A No. 1. She is in charge of as clever a set of officers as can be found. What Captain Dunlap don't know about boating aint worth going to any trouble to find out. Passengers who have traveled on the Kenton speak in flattering terms of her appointments. The first clerk is Mr. Wm. Dunlap, an officer who will see that passengers have the best of attention.

DEATH OF CAPT. HENRY S. PEIRCE.—We have received a dispatch from Zanesville, announcing the death of Capt. H. S. Peirce in that city, on Friday night. He was engaged in the Pittsburgh and Zanesville trade for many years and formerly commanded the [illegible] as a business man, he had no superior. For the past six years he has resided in Zanesville and was the agent for the boats composing that line. His numerous friends will learn of his demise with regret. He was honorable and upright in all his dealings. The fell destroyer, consumption, has claimed him as one more victim.

Cincinnati.

Saturday's Commercial says: Here, the river has receded 12 inches during the past twenty-four hours. There is 9 feet hence to Louisville. There is [illegible] feet in the Canal. The Tennessee is falling again. The Cumberland is falling, with 28 inches on Harpeth Shoals. There is 16 feet in the Mississippi from St. Louis to Cairo.

Capt. John B. Conway, of the Lorena, left for Pittsburgh in last night's train.

Captain [illegible] received a dispatch last night, dated Fort Donnelson, announcing the sinking of the steamer Volunteer, in the Cumberland river. The boat is reported a total loss. She was engaged in lighting her cargo over Harpeth Shoals, all of which is from Cincinnati.

The steamer Curlew is for sale at Evansville.

Louisville.

Friday's Press says: The river was falling fast yesterday, with five feet three inches water in the canal in the evening by the mark. During the previous twenty-four hours it had fallen nine inches at the head of the falls, and twenty-seven inches at Portland. The weather was warm yesterday, with the heat of the sun intense, and the thermometer up to 90, but a good breeze prevailing during the day. In the evening it clouded up with a shower of rain, which cooled the atmosphere.

On the falls last evening there were but a little over three feet water in the pass down the Indiana chute, and the Blue Wing No. 3, for St. Louis, and the Tyrone and Nora for Johnsonville passed down over the falls.

The Cumberland river at Nashville continues falling, and business very dull, with no arrivals on Wednesday, and the departure of the Pine Hill for Cincinnati only. On the shoals but twenty-eight and a half inches water was reported.

The two dredge boats recently advertised for sale by the Government were sold yesterday, one to Captain Lockhart, the superintendent of the canal, and the other to Mr. Belknap. The sums paid were $1,000 for one, and $1,800 for the other.

Twenty years ago boats were plying our rivers that made more than fifteen miles an hour against the current of the Mississippi. We call to mind two of those boats—the J. M. White and Peytona, the latter the fastest boat on the western waters, though she never made a trip to Louisville in four days but five. She on a short trial of speed up the Mississippi ran 18¾ miles an hour, for four hours together, and passed the "Wild Missouri" under way at the time with ease.

We would merely remind the Louisville Press that there was no failure of the J. M. White. She was built at Pittsburg and made the time from New Orleans to St. Louis in less than "four days." Her time to Cairo and St. Louis has never been approached. She waited ten days in New Orleans in order to test the speed of the Peytona but it was no go. The officers of that boat knew the speed of the White too well to have anything to do with her. The Louisville folks may prate about their fast boats. The J. M. White, built in Pittsburg in 1844, was the fastest boat that ever floated in the Western waters. Her time to Cairo and St. Louis, or to either point, has never been approached.

Evansville.

The Journal of Thursday says:

The river is swelling here very slowly, with clear, hot weather. There was scarcely any business done on the levee yesterday, except the removal of freights that have accumulated during the past week, especially tobacco. The arrivals since Tuesday night, were the Maggie Hays, from St. Louis to Pittsburgh; Ella Faber and Bertha, from St. Louis to Louisville. A big tow-boat, with a barge in tow, touched at the wharf about dark last night.

Cairo.

A correspondent, of the 28th, says: The Continental reports a boat, supposed to be the Mollie Cook, sunk six miles above Vicksburg. The hurricane-deck is above water, covered with soldiers. The Continental was unable to reach her, but says the Henry Ames was in sight, and in all probability would release her. By an order received from General Orme at Memphis, a cargo of cotton, arrived here last night per steamer Powell, from the Tennessee River, has been seized. The cargo consists of 100 bales, with the owners generally on board.

St. Louis.

Friday's Democrat says: Captain James Yore has gone to the Ohio to take a look at the various shipyards, and see if he can't get a reasonable contract for a new boat for the Missouri river trade, of about the following dimensions: 42 feet beam, 40 feet floor, 230 feet length, and 6 feet hold. He goes as far as Pittsburgh.

The authorities at Vicksburg, on the 18th, made the Emperor, bound from New Orleans for Cincinnati, unload at Vicksburg, when she was ordered up Red river in Government service.

The following steamers passed Cairo from the Ohio river for White river: Delaware, Financier, Commercial, John T. McCombs, Pocohontas, Melnotte, Rose Hite, Mormora, Anglo Saxon, Argonaut, Ontario, and Starlight.

THE MISSOURI AND ITS TRADE THIS SEASON.—The vast flood of water which has swept down the channel of the Missouri from the mountain regions, for now near a month, is now disappearing. In the last 24 hours the river at this point has receded three or four feet, and already the newly formed sand bars, and recently drifted trees and snags, are lifting their heads above the water. Many broad acres of the rich soil of this valley have changed location, and while we condole with those whose lands have largely diminished in this way, we congratulate others whose estates have been increased.

"It's an ill wind that blows no good," and often where one man looses another gains. The truth of the proverb is illustrated in this neighborhood. Mr Corby has had many thousands of dollars added to his already immense wealth by the Missouri floods, while the owners of real estate in Ellwood, Kansas, opposite us, have had even that little which they had taken away, and many came near finding watery graves. A few years more, and unless the "Big Muddy" shall change its channel, our friends in the Kansas bottom will have to betake themselves behind their beautiful bluffs, and there make their abiding places.

During the high waters the steamboatmen have reaped a golden harvest. The very largest craft—St. Louis and New Orleans packets—have glided along over the broad bosom of our noble water course with as much ease and grace as they ever exhibited on the "Father of Waters." Many of these immense boats have gone up as high as Omaha, and might have gone further. Now, as the water recedes, such craft will have to seek their native courses, and leave dame Missouri to her regular navigators.

The trade of the Missouri river the present season has surpassed all anticipation. During the whole season there has been a reasonable stage of water; and this with the sudden termination of the reign of the guerrilla, has permitted a commerce unrivalled in many years. The thousands who dwell upon the banks of the Missouri can now, more than ever, appreciate its importance, for, while carrying millions of tons of supplies to the hundreds of thousands of people who live in the far West, it has also set down right at our very hearthstones, great quantities of all kinds of goods kept in our market, which it would have been exceedingly difficult to have procured by railroad.—St. Joseph Herald, 25th.

Nashville.

The Press, of Thursday, says: Arrivals—Gossamer, from Cincinnati. Departures—Pine Hill, for Cincinnati, and Alice, for Clarksville. Almost no business doing on the levee. There were 28 inches on Harpeth Shoals.

ARTIFICIAL LIMBS.

The best Patent Artificial Leg in the United States and the only one in Pittsburgh, is made by

REICHENBACH,

No. 58 Fourth street, near Market street.

No other person in this city has a patent for Artificial Limbs. His Patent Leg resembles the natural limb in all its movements, as well as in appearance, and cannot be detected by an experienced eye. It met the approbation of the Army Board in Washington, January 12th, 1864, at which time a patent was granted the inventor. Parties in this city and elsewhere have attempted to imitate the patent, but have only produced worthless limbs.

Crutches can be dispensed with the first time the leg is worn. On horseback, it has the power and movements as when walking.

REICHENBACH also manufactures an ARTIFICIAL HAND, which is natural in appearance and movements, and when worn but a short time by those requiring them, are indispensable. je14-1y

MURRAY OIL COMPANY.

W. P. MURRAY, PRESIDENT.
J. H. LYDAY, SECRETARY and TREASURER.

This Company owns in Fee Simple a Farm containing EIGHTY-SEVEN ACRES AND FORTY-FIVE PERCHES, located on Brevort Run, (a tributary to Cherry Run,) and lying between Cherry Run and Oil Creek.

TWENTY-EIGHT LEASES have already been made to responsible parties, among whom will be found the names of some of the oldest and most successful operators on the Creek.

The entire tract will accommodate from 125 to 160 Wells.

The farm is surrounded by four of the most celebrated oil producing farms on Oil Creek and Cherry Run and is in close proximity to the "Reed" and "Mountain" Wells, and about one mile from the "Walnut Bend" Well. The company offer a limited number of shares at the Subscription Price—

SEVENTY-FIVE CENTS PER SHARE.

Maps of the property, together with all information regarding the property, and organization of the Company can be obtained at the office of

SOMETHING NEW.

METAL HYDROMETERS,

That will not break or get out of order, for Testing Carbon Oil.

Having succeeded, "by dint of close study and application," in producing a Hydrometer in metal for testing Carbon Oil, I respectfully offer it to the attention of Dealers and those engaged in Refining, as an article that will not break or get out of order; its adjustment being so simple that any one may readily understand it. To those constantly using this instrument it will be found a great boon, as an article that has long been inquired after, and which needs only to be seen to be appreciated.

For sale by the Manufacturer,
